Despite Mr. Washburn's appeal for a "Universal" job system, St. Andrew's School would be in disarray if it were not for the maintenance staff who polish off what would otherwise be a mediocre attempt at 7:30am cleaning. We are grateful for the school's cheerful and pleasant cleaning, cooking, and ground keeping staff who put hard work into maintaining the campus. The class of '88 and the entire school body would like to say thanks!

Varsity Soccer

The 1987 soccer team was one of unsurpassed spirit and determination. Day in and day out we strove for perfection. The team's unity and aggressiveness combined to make us a fearsome squad that would not quit; to this, Friends can attest. Thanks to the dynamic duo, coaches Roach and Speers, for making all the hard work so much fun. Special thanks to our all-state managers, Alex, Amy, and Kim for all of your support.

The Captains

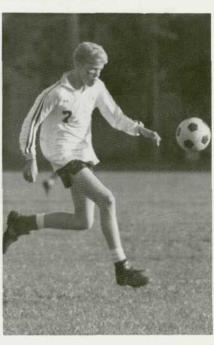

P.S. Thanks also to the underclassmen for making our senior season such a special one. Stay together and you'll get Bush next year!

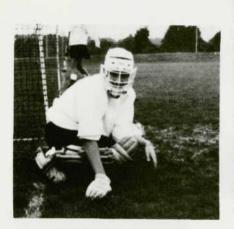

You're on the line! ... heinous ... nice throw, Joe ... kneel who? ... well tried ... panel for a milkshake ... dust those geeks ... thanks for the cookies, Ridie ... Varsity Football

Pride is often considered to be a tragic flaw, in literary terms; however, on the athletic field, pride is what kept us -the 1987 varsity football team-going. Our record of 2 and 6 does not reflect the desire and willpower our team possessed. We suffered together, laughed together, cried together, celebrated together, and finally said goodbye. The season will be remembered in many way: "Volleyballs" ... Freddie's glasses ... 7th amendment ... snow practice ... sledding managers ... Thanks guys, and Good Luck! Bye.

Jeff and Storm '88 P.S. Get the cannon!

Varsity Volleyball

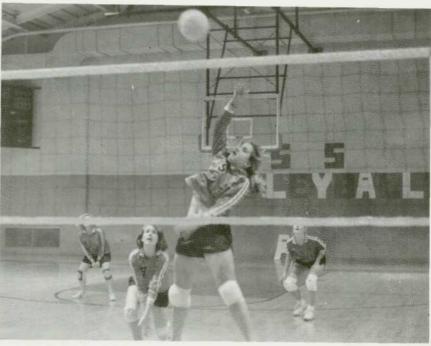

The 1987 varsity volleyball team proved to be the best St. Andrew's had ever seen. Six varsity players returned from last year, bringing with them more enthusiasm, ambition, and skill than had been seen before. Led by co-captains Elizabeth Baker and Kate Gamble, no one could stop this energetic bunch. They drove themselves to produce their best. Never giving up, they showed their opponents what St. Andrew's volleyball was about — teamwork!

The team owes a debt of gratitude to Mr. Walker for his unending support and enthusiasm and wishes him good luck next year, wherever he is. Stay cool, F.L.!

P.S. Good luck next year Kate, Emily, Marlies, and Kay — push on!

Only Row: VonDewitz, Hurtt, Thomas

Because there were only three of us, we, Women's Cross Country 1987, were a close knit, successful team. However, our record did not reflect our success. Our team was led by three strong tri-captains, Jen Hurtt, Lainie Thomas, and Alexa VonDewitz. Unfortunately, one-third of our team, Alexa, was out for a large part of the season. We three were led by an energetic, enthusiastic coach,

Ms. Ripley Greppin. Fresh out of Connecticut College, she was full of fun ideas for practices. Some of our fonder memories- scaling the Ursuline hill, "Welcome to Pennsylvania", Temptations, holding hands over the finish line, tights (red, Jen?), American boxer shorts, sitting in the icewater, St. Elizabeth's away in the rain, "Do we have to wear the red shorts, Ms. Greppin?!"

Fall Production

This fall we set out to A Witness for the Prosecution — a first for all of us. This production was a "first" in that it was the first serious drama in recent SAS fall theatre history. Although at first we thought that this production was serious and therefore "boring," we made a turn-around in attitude. We modified the production in several ways. First we made the characters our own; adding in our own ideas on costume, character, and movement made A Witness for the Prosecution a challenge that was exciting to attain. Secondly, we as people made a difference; we had a good time in working and joking.

While most of us were veterans, we had four new additions to the troupe: Chris Pupke, Corinna Calhoun, Melissa Mills, and Casey Zimmer. Emily Balentine and Lee McGill also joined in on a "part-time" basis. Old working relationships and this infusion of "new blood" were the basis for this fall term production. As a departing senior, I will miss all of the people and especially the memories: "Damn it, there's blood on 'dem", "type O? O, yes", Corinna's laugh, Keary's gavel-banging, and Catherine's wig are only some of the memories. To Keary, Cath, Corinna, and all the others — good luck and remember — go V. theatre!

Varsity Wrestling

Eight hours a week of grueling, self-inflicted pain during practice to prepare for six minutes of inhumane pummelling with a muscle-bound enemy. This is SAS wrestling through the eyes of the unenlightened.

For seven years, the SAS wrestling program has struggled to produce a winning record. The team has not held such a title since 1981. This season Coach Ashton Richards and a haggard crew of wrestlers made a conscious decision to remedy the situation. They wanted it, they labored for two hours a day in the practice room to attain it; they committed to it. Result: with three weeks and two dual matches remaining in the season, the St. Andrew's Wrestling Teams record was 10 wins, 2 losses and the right for contention of the conference title. This is SAS wrestling through the eyes of those who understand.

The Shack '87-'88

In order t' keep from going insane an' in order t' survive-An' it can't be denied-It was a hangout-But not like the street corner-

There aint' enough room on the paper t' tell about everybody that was there an' exactly what they did-

Every nite was a true high degree novel-

But the walls shook-An' everybody smiled-An' everybody felt good-

An' that feeling aint' 't be forgottenYuh carry 't with yuhIt's a feeling that's born and not boughtAn' it can't be taught

An' it can't be taught
An' by living it yuh learn t' see it in other people-

'T sing an' speak as one yuh gotta believe as one-

An' once yuh know the feeling it doesn't change-It can only grow-

A Dream Within A Dream

Take this kiss upon the brow! And, in parting from you now, Thus much let me avow -You are not wrong, who deem That my days have been a dream; Het if hope has flown away In a night, or in a day, In a vision, or in none, Is it therefore the less gone! All that we see or seem Is but a dream within a dream. I stand amid the roar Of a surf-tarmented share. And I hold within my hand Grains of the golden sand-How few! yet how they creep Through my fingers to the deep, 瑚hile I weep - while I weep! (I God! can I not grasp Them with a tighter clasp? (I God! can I not save One from the pitiless wave? Is all that we see or seem But a dream within a dream? - Edgar Allen Hoe

Never constrain yourself with a script, or a sheet of music; that is unfair to your audience and yourself. Release your deepest sorrows and loves in a brief, unforgettable surge of humanness; that is performing. Which is Life.

He built an architecture of Bach, stone by exquisite stone, raising a musical cathedral so vast that its furthest chancels were in Ninevah, its furthest dome at St. Peter's left hand The music stayed and did not crash in ruin when it was over, but partook of a series of white clouds and was carried away among other lands. -Ray Bradbury

Music is your own experience, your thoughts, your wisdom. If you don't live it, it won't come out of your horn. They teach you there's a boundary line to music. But, man, there's no boundary line to art. -Charlie Parker

"Human beings do not live forever, Reuven. We live less than the time it takes to blink an eye, if we measure our lives against eternity. So it may be asked what value is there to a human life. There is so much pain in the world. What does it mean to have to suffer so much if our lives are nothing more than the blink of an eye?" He paused again, his eyes misty now, then went on. "I learned a long time ago, Reuven, that a blink of an eye in itself is nothing, but the eye that blinks, that is something. A span of life is nothing, but the man who lives that span, he is something. He can fill that tiny span with meaning, so that its quality is immeasurable, though its quantity may be insignificant. Do you understand what I am saying? A man must fill his life with meaning, meaning is not automatically given to life. It is hard work to fill one's life with meaning. That I do not think you understand yet. A life filled with meaning is worthy of rest." -Chaim Potok

Finish everyday and be done with it, You have done what you could. Some blunders and absurdities no doubt crept in; forget them as soon as you can. Tomorrow is a new day; begin it well and serenely and with too high a spirit to be cumbered with your old nonsense. This day is all that is good and fair. It is too dear, with it's hopes and invitations, to waste a moment on yesterday - R.W. Emerson

Saying goodbye, going away, seems like goodbye such a hard thing to say. Touching a hand, wondering why, it's time for saying goodbye.
Saying goodbye, why is it sad, makes us remember the good times we've had. Much more to say, foolish to try, it's time for saying goodbye.
Don't want to leave, but we both know, sometimes it's better to go.
Somehow I know, we'll meet again, not sure quite where, and I don't know just when. You're in my heart, so until then, it's time for saying goodbye.

I suggested that one could be a ray of sunshine in pants as well, but Aunty said that one had to behave like a sunbeam, that I was born good but had grown progressively worse every year. She hurt my feelings and set my teeth permanently on edge, but when I asked Atticus about it, he said there were already enough sunbeams in the family and to go on about my business, he didn't mind me much the way I was.

Share everything; play fair; don't hit people; put things back where you found them; clean up your own mess; don't take things that aren't yours; say you're sorry when you hurt somebody; wash your hands before you eat; flush; warm cookies and cold milk are good for you; live a balanced life; learn some; think some; draw; paint; sing; dance; play; work some every day; take a nap every afternoon; when you out in the world, watch for traffic, hold hands and stick together; be aware of the wonders; remember the seed in the plastic cup, the roots go down and the plant goes up and nobody really knows how or why; but, we are all like that, goldfish and hamsters and even the seed in the plastic cup, they all die; so do we; and remember the book about Dick and Jane; and the first word you learned; the biggest word of all: Look. Everything you need to know is in there somewhere.

Think of what a better world this would be if we all- the whole world-had cookies and milk about 3:00 every afternoon and then laid down with our blankets for a nap. Or if we had a basic policy in our nation and other nations to always put things back where we found them. And clean up our own messes. And it is still true, no matter how old you are, when you go out into the world, it is best to hold hands and stick together. -Unknown

The greatest ride in my life was about to come up, a truck, with a flatboard at the back, with about six or seven boys sprawled out on it, and the drivers, two young blond farmers from Minnesota, were picking up every single soul they found on the road — the most smiling, cheerful couple of handsome bumpkins you ever could wish to see, both wearing cotton shirts and overalls, nothing else; both thick-wristed and earnest, with broad howareyou smiles for anybody and anything that came across their path. I ran up, said "Is there room?" They said, "Sure, hop on, 'sroom for everybody."

I wasn't on the flatboard before the truck roared off; I lurched, a rider grabbed me, and I sat down. Somebody passed a bottle of rotgut, the bottom of it. I took a big swig in the wild, lyrical, drizzling air of Nebraska. "Whooee, here we go!" yelled a kid in a baseball cap, and they gunned up the truck to seventy and passed everybody on the road.

And indeed there will be time
For the yellow smoke that slides along the street
Rubbing its back upon the window-panes;
There will be time, there will be time
To prepare a face to meet the faces that you meet;
There will be time to murder and create,
And time for all the works and days of hands
That lift and drop a question on your plate;
Time for you and time for me,
And time yet for a hundred indecisions,
And for a hundred visions and revisions,
Before the taking of a toast and tea.

That spring day in '86 when SAS took a chance on thee. Beth, you were so excited, determined and yet full of glee. Looking forward to new friends on the field hockey team . . . Alas, you had surgery but still kept on the beam.

And now as co-captain, you've done well in basketball Not to forget philosophy and writing — perhaps another Pascal! Long weekends to Pittsburgh often times made you late But not as forbidden as "falling" in the school lake.

Other memories you're entitled to have as a keepsake: We mention only the friends, teachers, students and roomate. Ants in the library, mildew in the frig, corridor fun, and being out late The all-class trips to NY theatre — those long bus trips one does hate.

Beth, your achievements have simply been outstanding ... We are very proud of your scholarship standing. Your constant sense of humor and the casual quip. All of the above, we hope you will never quit.

So two years after SAS took a chance on thee You have blossomed like a flower on a tree. We are happy to see that you're busy as a bee And that you are still excited . . . still full of glee!

Congratulations, Beth and love from Mom and Dad

Art's Day "Another Outstanding Success"

Spring term at St. Andrew's is highlighted every year by Art's Day, and 1988 was no exception, when parents, relatives, friends and the student body enjoyed nearly two days of varied events which showcased the many talents and achievements of the students in the arts. Considering the amount of time it takes to perfect a work of art, or polish a musical or dramatic performance, the quality and variety of Art's Day presentations was truly remarkable, given the pressures of end-of-term academics and athletics. Once again, St. Andrew's students in the arts have proved that the enthusiasm and dedication fostered in the student body through the arts, is lively, serious, flourishing and appreciated across all areas of the school and community beyond.

The student recital on Saturday, May 14 featured Jake Townsend, Kay Rhee, Grace An, Sunita Barhan, Teresa Morgan, Julie Herbert, Robb Ellis, Melissa Mills, Raquel Mondin, Kim Egan, Todd Perry, Anna Vocino and Barrett Simpson, in a wide-ranging program of piano, instrumental and vocal music and dance which was well received by the large audience. The very professional performances of Thornton Wilder's The Matchmaker on Friday and Saturday nights entered St. Andrew's theatrical history as one of the best productions ever. The Choir and Concert Band performances on Sunday morning admirably explored those groups' talents, ranging from Bach and the folksong "Scarborough

Fair," to a sonorous band version of the overture to Haydn's opera "Armida." The performance of the Concert Choir, directed by John Brooks, was enthusiastically received in the Cameron Room. The program consisted of demanding choral literature from many periods, both sacred and secular, which was performed on the Choir's successful tour through New England in March. Anthems of Batten, Bruckner, Stanford and Purcell, madrigals of the Elizabethan Age. English folksongs, American spirituals and selections from Randall Thompson's lyrical settings of Robert Frost's poetry, entitled "Frostiana," displayed the Concert Choir's expertise and poise.

Closing the weekend's festivities, the Stage Band, directed with zest by the ever-cool Larry Walker, wowed the audience with exciting jazz and pop selections by Quincy Jones, Stevie Wonder, Chick Corea and others, including the Cagney and Lacey TV theme. The performance was in the Garth, and the weather was cooperating (for once this term!) with fabulous sun, which made the band's Beach-Cool-Funk-Hawaiian garb just right!

In addition, throughout the weekend, exhibitions of student work in painting, ceramics, pottery, woodworking and photography, from all forms, impressed all who saw them.

Art's Day 1988 was another outstanding success, celebrating the vitality and originality of artistic endeavor and achievement at St. Andrew's.

This year's spring drama production was The Matchmaker by Thornton Wilder, a Victorian comedy set in Yonkers, NYC in the 1890's. The play was imaginatively directed by Lee Higgins assisted by Dan Hermes, and featured Elizabeth Baker as the delightful busybody Dolly Levi. Miss Baker was supported by Keary Jenkins as the irascible but lovable Horace Vandergelder, Oliver Wilcox and John Little as the bumbling, fun-loving clerks, and Lee McGill as the charming Irene Molloy. Grace An, Anna Vocino, Adam Perry, Storm Trosdal, Beth Pierce, and several others rounded out a versatile cast, full of witty stage presence and relishing Wilder's "comedy of errors" which turns out happily.

1988 Conference Champs

This year's varsity baseball team experienced a very successful season as its 12-6 record indicates. The school's first victory over defending state champions Tower Hill by a score of 1-0 overshadowed the fact that we tied for the conference championship. The seniors hope that the underclassmen will continue this strong effort and wish them the best for next year. The players thank everyone who supported the team, especially Cori and Susan for their great work on the bench. Congratulations to J.P. Blandin and Dave McCrystal for being named to the All-State team. Most importantly the team thanks its coaches John Lyons and Larry Walker and co-coach of the year in Delaware Bob Colburn. Without the efforts of these men the team would not have accomplished what it did this year. Also a parting thanks to the co-captains Jeff and Dave and to the rest of the seniors. We'll miss you.

Simply awesome is one way to describe the 1988 woman's tennis season. With the help of thirds singles state champion Sarah O'Connor and first doubles state champions Kellie Mitra and Jenny Hanna, the Delaware state title was secured by SAS for the second straight year. Under the leadership of team co-captains Mitra and first singles player Anne Margaret Baxley, this year's varsity women compiled a first ever undefeated season record of 13-0! The team was strengthened enormously this year by the addition of second singles player Alexa von Dewitz and second doubles partners Beccy Hance and Kelly Garrett whose efforts, combined with those already mentioned, earned the team the state-wide reputation, "Bad-Bad to the bone!" Finally, special thanks goes to coach Elizabeth Roach who never gave up hope, even during those nail-biting 3-2 matches. And to Jonathan Banks, who did so much -we couldn't have done it without you. Thanks also to our loyal fans and best of luck to next year's team.
