

GRIFFIN 2000

Griffin

2000

The class of 2000 would like to dedicate our yearbook to David DeSalvo. Over his 13 years here Mr. DeSalvo has done a little bit of everything, from coaching to counseling to teaching, and yet he has always had time to discuss anything at anytime with any person. He has always been there for anybody if they needed to talk, and before the conversation ends he has always brought a smile to their face and a laugh to their lips. Mr. DeSalvo has the rare ability to mix humor with learning in a positive way, which makes being in a class of his, at his table, or just being around him a wonderful experience. His constant energy and willingness to help others often goes unnoticed by the school community, as he always does what he does quietly and out of the spotlight, but without him St. Andrew's would definitely not be the place it is. When something needs to get done, it is Mr. DeSalvo who is always there directing what should be happening, and then quietly sliding out the door when everything is all finished. Your behind-the-scenes work has not escaped our eyes however, and that is why we are dedicating the 2000 yearbook to you.

Thanks for everything Doc!

Ever since Echo Hill, we've all been great friends. Memories of walking in the swamps still makes us queezy and itchy, but we can always think back and laugh. The unforgettable campout must be recognized as another certainly bonding experience for us as well. We got to know one another pretty well that night whether it was playing "truth or dare," sitting by the fire, or just sitting out in the middle of a field until four in the morning. We have been through our ups and downs as a class, but relationships have been fortified and new ones have been developed with the help of people like Ms. Miller and Mr. Bride. Maybe it had something to do with Mr. Cheban not "breaking us in" as has been said by many a senior. But besides the fact that we can't walk through the dining hall because we're some sort of "health hazard," the class of '03 came through with a storm. Two storms actually: Hurricane Floyd and Hurricane George, then there was all that snow. We got to go mud sliding and have a school snowball fight. Let's just say sledding has become a new skill for many freshman. With memories like this, who knows what to expect in the next three years. Class of '03, WE ROCK!!!

Front Row (l-r): Yang, Perrie, Previti, Eddy, Buckle, Parshall, H. Callaway, Hawkins, Voora, A. Hickman, Wolinski Second Row: Pitts, Atwater, Wadsworth, Ju, Troutman, Rockwood, Symes, E. Morse, Bostian Third Row: Reynolds, Shackelford, Johns, Gaeta, Wu, Primiani, Biddlesnea, Lea, Zazulia, Johnson, Budwig, Rathvon, Brandes, Pattee, Hardwick, Ballard, Moser, Awangtang, Mrs. B. Calvin Fourth Row: Palmer, W. Osier, Penny, Courtnot, Cox, Matthews, Carey, M. Graham, Muller, Sim, DuPont, Purcell, Munson, Burns, Dolan, Fry, Unger Back Row: Grimes, Knott, H. Heckman, D. James, Gosnell, Zolnick, Moorhead, C. Caruthers, A. Pfeiffer, Harrington, Zarchin, C. Taylor, Elie, M. Wilson

Despite some minor winter glitches, mainly semi-formal, the fourth form remains strong. The new sophomores definitely added good character to the class of 2002. Thank you to Mrs. Bates and Mr. G for being patient and taking care of us. We are ready to tackle junior year with new integrity and excitement. And it always helps to know that we're halfway there!

The class of 2001 led fearlessly by Mr. Austin and Mrs. Zendt has concluded another excellent, spotless year here at good old SAS. The creative and ambitious group of young people that will one day lead the school have proven themselves as flawless leaders. In fact, we'd like to pose one question: Where would the school be without the fifth form? Empty rooms, losing teams, unworked teachers and boring weekends; in other words without the fifth form, SAS would be in chaos- a virtual state of emergency. As if Atlas dropped the world!!!! It all started this year when we scared the school at Frightland, then again with the creation of our risque yet lucrative weenies. And who could forget Maui Wau? We had fun, and we think you did too. Hang in there old juniors, we've almost got control! Consider this the beginning of a new era at St. Andrew's. Hot Diggity!

The first class of the millenium, (sorry Chris-it sounds good), has come a long way. Through our many feats, the class of 2000 has upheld the traditions of the school while still managing to have some fun. We served the community around us through many community service activities, and v bonded as a class by burning out exhibitions. We manipulated human nature with our crazy fundraising skills. Saint Andrew's overflowed with orange crush, cheap (or cheaper than we sold them for) T-shirts, including the mysterious Crush Tee-Shirts. They're coming- we swear! But all things considered the senior class proved to be excellent and capable leaders of St. Andrew. Despite our checkered past (an astounding 14 gone in 4 years), we seniors have accomplished mu this year, from success on playing fields and the stage to our utter domination of the underformers in the twelve days of Christmas. We perservered through the college process and the exhibition. The seniors have pulled the school together through good and bad this year. We really want to thank Mr. Hyde and Mrs. Schuller for their support and guidance. And also we'd like to wish St. Andrew's and all the underformers good luck in the future.

S.A.C.

Only a few words can describe the year we had on SAC, "We have a meeting tonight, Dammit!!!" As one can see in the picture only the few and proud would show up to the meetings including the photo. However, despite the setbacks we had a great year. We opened up strong with the computer dance and continued till the end of the year. One can remember some amazing events such as town trips and the regular dinner trips. And who could ever forget Mismatch Wednesday, what a day that was. Who could ever forget the weekends at St. Andrews!!! P.S.- Once again SAC apologizes for never getting the digital announcements to work.

The Andrean

What a successful year we had on the Andrean this year. With hundreds of announcements that seemed to never materialize, we think we got your attention. From poetry readings to Sunday afternoon meetings we were a pretty strong force in the community this year. We were happy that we kept the blood shed at our meeting down to minimum this year, with the least amount of bickering we have had in recent years. Now as the year comes to a close we would like to thank Mr. Talvacchio for everything he has done. We will miss you next year and we love you.

We had one of the most productive years in Student Life history. Under the new leadership of Mr. Caldwell we were able to go to new limits. We were able to overcome serious adversity among the students who do not know what it is like to wield this unimaginable power. Issues such as were people should "go" during 9:30 to 10:00 and why seniors can not have cars or TV's or anything for that matter were discussed with the inevitable conclusion of "No, we have our reasons" We look forward for next year when we can take credit for the new kitchen. And the student body is welcome for the soap dispensers, sorry about the paper towels.

With the Wood Company in and ARA out the food company had a huge task ahead of them. However they pulled it off very well. Who can ever forget the variety of foods at dinner from foods such as Cheeseburgers to Pizza, what a selection. And are we excited for the new kitchen next year with more room for burgers and french fries. Excellent!

Corridor Life

Lower Pell

Upper Pell

Imagine.....it is the year 2003. The hellians, oops, we mean pellians of 2000 are now the reigning seniors, with lovely freshmen of their own to nurture and support. One of you is on duty, and while searching high and low for that last straggling freshman to come running in breathless off the front lawn, notice that things haven't changed much; the common room still reeks of chinese food and popcorn, and the couches still have reases left on them from people perpetually implanted there all weekend long. Unwilling to deal with the stench any longer, you proceed down the corridor. There's a party in the tripple, and as you pass you hear some shouts about that old ghost. You feel as though you ought to try and organize some sort of corridor function, but as you walk from room to room and encounter various activities ranging from ranking guys, to dancing around covered in highlighter you think that maybe chubby funny just doesn't cut it. In a last attempt to prove your worth as a senior you try to get them all in bed on time, unfortunately you encounter several obstacles along the way. All the phones are still currently occupied in a 'crucial' conversation, jeans have seemed to evolve into the new nightware, and your pleas to get people into the bathroom were drowned in a sea of shouts from the wrestling girls on the floor. At last, 20 mins after bedtime, and with the help of a faculty member who slightly outranks yourself, not a creature is stirring except maybe a few mice.

Although you didn't always adhere to our instructions, we hope that you do accept our wish that you have the best of luck in all you SAS years to come.

Love,
the survivors, aka your seniors

Hillier

This year, the young lads of Hillier, all 17 of them, endured possibly the finest, most attractive seniors ever to grace the corridors of this institution. With effortless authority and delightful exuberance for their duties, these five seniors controlled the corridor with an iron fist, similar to the regimes instituted in Cambodia by the Khmer Rouge or even simply the secret police in revolutionary Russia (the kind of material seniors pretend to study while on duty.) Although from time to time these poor misguided juveniles attempted to present a sense of individuality, the seniors quickly pounced on these rebellions with German efficiency, squelching their plans before they came near fruition. Often, out of our sense of morality, the leaders of these coups would not be given marks, due to the fact that we did not want to relinquish our authority to the bureaucracy of the system. We all envision that the boot camp of discipline and decorum that has been enforced on these little heathens will pay off in the long run and the authoritarian nature of our rule will be respected.

Now for reality. As a collective group we managed to hand out about 12 marks up to the time of the writing of this article. While our attractiveness is certainly not a manipulation of the truth, just about everything else is. In fairness, even our aesthetics could be challenged I suppose. We ruled with an authority about on par with that of the National Guard. The reason marks were not given has no relation to our impending sense of morality, but more to our unquestioned laziness. Despite Gieske's pleas for order, "They'll thank you five years down the road", we kept discipline at an arm's length. When asked to contemplate the effects of our casualness, we merely pressed ourselves with more important issues such as the origins of the name Muff. But we all had a damn good time with our little freshmen, keeping them up late and all, so it's all in jest. Yes Muff was one of us, one of the five senior specimens of Hillier, who are unofficially Muff, B, J2K, Cloon-Tang and the corridor's tireless leader Sabloff, who by the way was technically in charge contrary to popular belief. So to Mincus, AB, T Grove, Baby Huey, Chicken King, Mr. Verbose, Thug, JJ Hendrix, Finsnasty, David "call me available" Wehrs, Adam "Ladies Choice" Finn, Wolfey, Rudy, Burnout, Gaskonian, Jerry and Action Eddie, we bid farewell and all the best. And in three years, if you guys are living with the freshman and keeping them in line and not having any fun and working hard, you didn't learn it from the five of us.

Fleming

Fleming has never been an easy corridor to live on. There is always noise, and always someone sick...(owen), but above all this there is the love that brings such fine young men together. Eliot, Penfield, Kalib, Artie, Joey, Charlie, Brinck, Paul, Metro, Jon, Mark, Owen, and Zack all share a strange bond. The kind of bond that makes birds sing and snapping turtles snap. This love was made possible by the complete trust in the fact that everything will someday work out. At the end of the year we ask ourselves, are we as a corridor connected, clean, clear, clairvoyant? Yes, of course we are, that is what makes us Fleming. We work as a team, sleep as a team, and eat as a squadron dedicated to upholding righteousness and eternal love throughout the entire kingdom. In the words of Napoleon, "There is only one step from the sublime to the ridiculous." So while we all move on to other worlds, the freshman to sophomore corridors and Joey, Artie, and Mark to ?, we say, so long and thank you God for the opportunity to live in eden, if only for just one school year. -

The residents and caretakers of Fleming corridor.

Our Boys'll Make sure Ya' Get Treated Right

Lower Moss

It's 10:25 PM and all's well... Deep in a dungeon somewhere, 16 courageous captives are trying to make the best of their condemnation to a world of darkness (with the occasional sunbeam if the lucky recipient is standing near the right window at the right time.) Luckily, good old-fashioned happiness (accompanied by good old-fashioned loudness and raunchiness) pervades the vomitous gray-carpeted, cinderblock walled hallway (along with assorted litter, articles of clothing that never seem to have owners, and happy lists). Emma's in a zombie-like state after playing solitaire for five hours on her computer (again) and next door, Meaghan's doing the exact same thing while wearing a purple cowboy hat. Meanwhile, Morgan is studying whilst Spanish tapes and the Backstreet Boys provide soothing background noise. Lizzie's in the hallway, blow-drying her hair (it's important to have nice hair, even after check-in). Emily Zazulia has a Pre-cal takehome and an English paper, which equate late lights, but Frances is already in bed with plans for a good 8 hour sleep. Cinda is wielding her guitar and singing back-up vocals for the Dave blasting out of her stereo. Emily Bostian is providing encouragement again, this time for Abbie's musings concerning the dictatorship of the small country she intends to own as an adult. Alex and Charlotte have caught their breaths by now from running to make it back to corridor on time, and Grace is patting Precious the Frog and wandering around with no particular destination in mind. The consistently responsible seniors are, as during all waking hours (waking hours lasting at least until 3 AM) are eating... Hilary has donned her duck-billed thinking cap to write a paper that's already late, and Abigail is attacking her--violently, occasionally stopping to groom herself. Lorinda is shaking her butt while being loud and probably profane. In fact, all four of them are being profane. Loud too. Sarah is observing all this loveliness around her and straining to catch a glimpse of the tattoo on her back. It's a beautiful day in the neighborhood. Lower Moss 1999-2000 is a slammin' place to be.

Upper Moss

There are no rows, so here are the names: Elie, Moser, Hardwick, Sibert, K. Wolinski, Hirsh, Johnson, Alexander, H. Callaway, Sandoval, Voora, Harrington, Ansell, Parshall, Morse, Zolnick, Hawkins, C. Caruthers, Pattee

Upper Moss was a pretty mellow place this year: Erin could always be found diligently studying in her room; not giving much thought to socializing or activities involving boys. Molly and Cha, despite the infamous incident, were either reading quality literature or contemplating the meaning of life. The reserved and modest Kwo always found time for her romance novels in between her frequent beatings from Sarah, who often became quite violent after listening to her gangsta rap. Leigh's need for sub-zero temperatures forced Santhi to wear her beloved animal print spandex. Fortunately, for the rest of the corridor, their room was a lot quieter at night. Cynthia, always the first out of the bathroom and into the bed, could frequently be seen in perfect dress code. While Jane, who was never in dress code, became an expert in self-defense and finally revealed her ruthless violent streak after being forced to be Leslie's "snuggle-poo." Crystal eagerly waited for the nights that Mr. Speers was on duty, so that they could discuss their presidential campaign over a small snack of Easy Mac fried chicken. Khawk and Hollis, in between their renditions of "Light the Candle" and "Always be my Baby," liked to have long important talks - Hollis usually talking very loudly and Katie quietly adding her opinions. Thayer could usually be found searching for her "mysteriously" lost stuffed animals, while suffering from an acute case of NEFNAR. Amanda, usually shy and timid and reserved, kept her opinions to herself and procrastinated incessantly every study hall. Cristina, in the bed by 10 p.m. every night, could always be found up at the crack of dawn ready for a new day. Laura, always on duty, shared Cristina's love of early mornings. Maria, always fully clothed and infamous for her late night habits, could never be found talking about Mr. Telvacchio. When Leslie was not meticulously cleaning her room she could be found organizing or spending time with one of her many men. And Nicole, when not longing for her big bad fubu daddy, could be found either procrastinating or backing that 'thang" up. Our fearless leaders Ms. Ramirez, Mrs. Hyde, Mr. Speers, Ms. Zendt, Ms. McGrath, and Dave could always be counted on for good food and conversations. This year has been wonderful, we hope that next year is even better.

Love,

Nicole, Cristina, Leslie, Maria, and Laura

"Lovers without reproach will gaze
On bodies naked and ablaze;
The hippocratic eye will see
In nakdness, anatomy;
And naked shines the Goddess when
She mounts her lion among men.

The nude are bold, the nude are sly
To hold each treasonable eye.
While draping by a showman's trick
Tehir dishabille in rhetoric,
They grin a mock-religious grin
Of scorn at those of naked skin."

Schmolze

In the beginning there was nothing, then there was Schmolze. Then God made the seniors. He wanted this upstanding group of perfect beings to rule over the domain so aptly called Schmolze. Then God made the slanting ceilings, the broken water fountain and a really messed up thermostat, then God saw what He had made and behold it was good. Then God created the sophomores. On this third floor of Eden God placed these sophomores. With them he left only one rule, do not eat from the forbidden bag of Wednesday night cookies. Unfortunately they were overcome by temptation and they consumed these cookies. Immediately the seniors came down and plagued the sophomores. They took the cookies and promised they would never see them again (which they didn't except for the occasional milk carton under Dave's Bed, sorry Dave). God then cursed this rowdy group of young boys and left them with only the seniors to rule. And rule they did... chaos ensued. Tribes formed, bathroom stalls became forums for blasphemous comments, the woops of Rob and sounds from Dave's incredible annoying Riverdance impression echoed through the land. God then realized it was time to wipe the slate clean. God called upon his power to flood the land but the evils of the sophomores were too much for the petty water fountain. God decided upon another tactic. He sent his only son Rick, to lead them. But they turned on him and he was sent away with hopes of coming again. Now the few redeemed boys wait for the second coming in joyful hopes of Rick's return. But until then they solemnly pray the word their seniors taught them,

Our Seniors who arght in Schmolze...

Voorhees

Way atop the pristine halls of St. Andrew's lived a unique bunch of men. Ever engaged in the pursuit of knowledge and spiritual growth, these men converged in what can only be called a quagmire. Yet each survived, and amidst the sounds of growing men each voice could be heard. So to commemorate such a gathering of miraculous minds, we present here a prediction for each miraculous man. In 20 years, this will be the group known "The Men of Voorhees 2000"

Snoogy: Mrs. <married name>

Snookums: A communist utilitarian

Oaks: forces Microsoft and Intel into bankruptcy, but sells his company because he "didn't care"

Sigfried: Dedicates his Fields Medal to all the "Men of Voorhees 2000"

Dave G: A Mountain Yeti

Irene/Tito: working night shifts

Rat/Tiny: a professional hugger

Teddy: has 7 supermodel wives

Dre: suffering from insomnia

Wu: Buys every movie company and produces only kungfu movies

Pitts: Playing the real-world version of RISK

Nuts: frowning

Apple: deported

Nugget: fighting off women with a stick

Tucker: a Backstreet Boy

Dux Lite: repeat winner on "Who Wants to Be a Millionaire?"

Brandes: names his daughter Sawyer

Goofy: mistakenly goes to the 2021 SAS Reunion

Guido: head of the Previti crime family

Trout: has finally figured out how to get out of his strait jacket

Nate: still confused

Dolan: still pissed, but he's dealing

Johns: assistant to Mr. McLean

Shack: First Mr. Olympia to come out of Arkansas

Club bK

This year on K has been one full of titillating convos, namely ones concerning our boys (wait...we have none...wait, just Maggie, and Lydia, sporadically, wait...never mind). We gathered in the common room to clean...wait, to eat...wait, to hide crap under the couch. We've told jokes, namely concerning the chicken and the horse, and strange practices of savage lands. We've devised master plans to destroy the school from the inside, bowls first.

"In the beginning, there was Hope," aka the Melty Creature, who entertained us with her obscene stories of Cliffie Garlic, Randy Jones, and the Smyrna crew. And Erin, who was often absent for an hour at a time, frolicking with the woodland folk. Emily's never ending quest often led her to the couch, where she fell asleep. Jenny, aka The Toymaster, filled our dorm with bouncy "balls" and pogo "sticks"...and moon shoes. Maggie, the artsy one (something like a superhero, something like a phenomenon), saved lives while on the run from the flaming dryer and the other flaming...objects. Piper, aka "Mama Knows" fed us with spiritual food. Penelope, well, her golf cart jaunts were the cause of dormwide envy. Wassup, Lydia? She, on the run from the law, found solace in interpretive dance to some groovin' tunes (with Emily).

Kate, the recipient of much fanmail, ruled with an Iron Fist. Caroline's impeccable taste beautified our dorm for about two days, until she got into Harvard. "Julie? Julie?! Is Julie up there?" And Julie was called from the bottom of the stairs to make beautiful music. Meg, proud sponsor, single competitor, and champion of the Cheeseball Olympics, awarded herself The Giant Tub O Balls. Oh, Genevieve, clearly the most renowned slacker of our dorm, gave physics lessons on projectile motion from the balcony. Shout-out to Shaggy.

And on the seventh day, and on the eighth, and for days to come, there was Tommy.... and Jose.

A TYPICAL WEDNESDAY NIGHT ON "L"

The juniors rush back to dorm after chapel to change and go across to the main building to work. While the seniors socialize and slowly make their way across eating half of the cookies for "milk and cookies" among the five of us and leaving only a few left for the juniors. (that is...if Lavanya remembers to get the cookies!) Then at ten or ten-thirty we all gather to watch our dorm favorite "Dawson's Creek", if we are lucky and Francesca has taped it. After eating all the cookies, the seniors try to mooch more food from the juniors and we can usually get some from either Far-far or Biggie and when that doesn't work we turn to the lacrosse food sales in the Chilton's house. Once we found a delicious pesto pasta thing (?) from Elizabeth's rotten gourmet food selection. Mmm! That was tasty, except for the fact that it exploded! "Somebody's got an ouchie!" Meanwhile, Anne keeps saying "Let's not watch a movie, let's play a game!" But the only games we can ever think of are: "Never have I ever", which we have played enough that we all know everything about everyone, or "Mafia", which has been fun, but disappointing for Mr. and Mrs. Chilton. Kaitlin, Elizabeth and Lindsey entertain themselves by giving each other huge, painful wedgies. Or Cordo and Minta are fortunate enough to be the designated ones that get to blare Elizabeth, Megan, and Lindsey's new favorite rap songs. As long as no one drinks their milk it is okay with them!! Let's make chips and salsa. Or maybe Mrs. Bride or Ms. Miller will take us to McDonalds?! "NO" they normally say. "Get out of my facial!" Yaah- let's watch a movie-not just any movie, but..."Buffy the Vampire Slayer". That's funny, but so is Kaitlin's voice after swallowing helium and the skit with Minta's head and Elizabeth's legs, and so is the wall of words which Wenjun and Cordo have cleverly put up. As most of the juniors slowly go into their rooms to either work or go to sleep, all of the seniors and Anne and Kaitlin are still out in the common room watching and eating, while Megan is sound asleep on the couch.

So, as you can tell, things in "L" are pretty normal and quiet. Everyone is usually asleep by 11:30 and if they're not, then they are working quietly in their in their room. The seniors have been very strict with on corridor time, dorm cleanness, and studying hard. It has been difficult at times to control our crazy juniors, but the senior's level-headedness and shyness has balanced out the hyper-active juniors.

Thanks for all the fun, long nights "L" dorm. We miss you Lindsay and hope that you are happy at home. I hope everyone has enjoyed this year as much as I have. I know you all had a lot of work and stress but hopefully, the five of us (seniors) helped limit that. Good Luck next year. We will miss all of you so much.

I Love You Guys! Love, Emily xoxoxoxox

am proud to announce that the young ladies of M are ready to move on to bigger and better things (although most of you will just be seniors next year). We would really like to congratulate you all for learning the skills you will need to succeed in life, such as always being prompt (for check-in) and being able to maintain a clean living environment, especially in the kitchen. We pray that you all take the skills you have learned as you head out to different dorms across campus, or for the lucky ones, college. Congratulations on a job well done! We can attribute the refinement of this bunch to the 7 drill sergeant seniors: Ingrid, Meredith, Julia, Lucy, Anna, Anne, and Emily. The girls came to us as frail 5th formers, afraid to be in front in public. Now they leave us as a team, a unit if you will, of strong, self-sufficient women!

Thank you all for a sphincterific year! Good Luck in you future endeavors! We will miss you all greatly! We love you and the wonderful memories we've shared on the great dorm called M.

LOVE, MEREDITH AND INGRID

Sherwood

For most of our corridor's career it has been plagued by disunity. "Who cares about this corridor anyway?" resonates in history, until the day the beast came to stall three. For one shining moment our corridor was the talk of the school. Never had anyone heard of such a human spectacle. Through this historic moment our corridor was brought together, changing the occupants from boys into one strong and united force now known as Sherwood corridor, the land of the beast. The transformation will remain in the minds of these men forever, and better prepare them for next year and into the future. Life on this corridor will never be the same.

Baum

We have had visitors,
O'Connell and Zendt,
Caldwell and Speers,
But none will forget that fateful night
when nightsticks in hand,
two cops strolled in.

Ode to Baum

Christmas trees and animals stuffed have we.
Bongos, T. Hawk, and Blitz
we have played.
Senior Saunas
the corridor that never sleeps are we,
but D.C.'s we have not.

8 seniors for seven days,
sunday night clean up,
and jobs not done.
The best showers,
Remember: when you here Spence's horn honk thrice,
the boys of BAUM are out for a heyst.

Fall

To Kill A Mockingbird

Under the wonderful direction/ tutelage/dictatorship of Nina Edgerton we brought to stage the timeless classic To Kill a Mockingbird. A story of a father, Atticus (Pedro Dalmau '00) who has to teach the hardest lessons of life to his two young children, Scout (Tara Gilbreath '00) and Jem (Jon King '00). Along with the amazing talents of Sarah Bowers '00, Robbie Pennoyer '01, and Mr. DeSalvo, the gifted cast brought to life the sleepy little town of Maycomb.

While it was hard for a lot of us in the beginning to even conceive of a theatre production without Mrs. McTaggart, we were deeply saddened as we bid farewell to Ms. Edgerton and the liveliness that she infused into the halls of St. Andrew's. Good-bye Nina, we will miss you dearly....

Love,
The Cast

Football

Led by six intense seniors, the St. Andrew's football team posted a better than average 3-5 season, but as is annually true, our record does not reflect our success on the field. We were in every game we played, losing only once by more than a touchdown. The highlight of a great season was the game under the lights against Bo Manor.

Thanks to the support of some wonderful fans, we gave one of the best teams in Maryland a run for their money. We would like to thank coaches Hyde, Colburn, Talvacchio, and Hoopes for a wonderful season and a great 4 years of coaching. The seniors wish the next generation good luck and are confident that you are in good hands.

Women's Soccer

This year's team was made up of many newcomers, but with the help of our leaders, the ladies men, Bobbie and Eddie, not to mention the occasional guest appearance of our father Hardie, we made it a bing-ing season. With the help of Ann and Melissa's "clubs", our intimidation factor was high and we never backed down. we got in top shape with our "twice a week" morning runs (not to mention running away from Wawa after Kara became a felon). After endless hours of breakout, and Eddie killing us on diving headers, we learned each other's middle names, and formed an incredible bond that was women's soccer. We will miss you all next year, but know you will be amazing under the reign of your new captains. In closing, we just have one thing to say, "THAT'S TIGHT LADIES!!"

Men's Cross Country

With only one returning varsity runner, it looked like a rebuilding year. But the team, led by Captain and defending state champion Morgan Scoville, demonstrated tremendous grit and strength, which led them to a 2nd place finish at the conference race and a 5th place finish at the state meet. Highlights of the season included; a shattering of Wilmington Christian's perfect record midway through the season, another Rambo run in record time, two runners in the top fifteen at the state meet, the establishment of a strong legacy to be continued by the underclassmen, three all-conference runners, a repeating individual state champion, and a strong desire to beat the hell out of Westown next year. In the following season, look to see the team become even faster as the varsity was made mostly of Sophomores. Mr. Brown, thank you for a wonderful year. You have laid the groundwork for a dynasty. So, have a great year off, and prepare yourself to coach a state championship team. GO SAINTS GO!

Women's Cross Country

"Fun, speedy, relaxed, healthy", the words of our beloved coach, Mr. G, held true both on and off the course. We were able to shoot through Discs to earn second and we earned seventh place at the state tournament. Although we had great outcomes in races, the girls cross country team like to measure success in the fun we have together. It was indian runs, 'cleverly' getting into the uniform room, and risque night psyche parties which made our season memorable. Thanks to our wonderful coach, Mr. G, and Al for helping us with our injuries. Best wishes to the team for an amazing season next year!

"Volleyball this year had a spirited season lead out by fearless Coach Ward whose chicken was definitely funky. With constant determination, we worked as a TEAM to achieve one of the better records in Saint's Volleyball history, and most importantly, we had fun. Thanks to Nicole for her wonderful management of the team. Thanks to all the seniors for their experience and leadership, and to the courage that all of the newcomers on J.V. displayed-- their energy and caring for each other was uplifting. We know you guys will continue to strengthen the program. The return of Coach Wang was key in our success and Ms. Ramirez with her unique ball-tossing style was always an inspiration. A special thanks to Jeff, Mamma Ward, Bobby and Jennifer who were our number 1 fans and who always kept us clean and well-fed. With the support of the school, we know our program will continue to grow and improve. GO SAINTS VOLLEYBALL!!!

Men's Soccer

St. Andrew's Soccer returned with a vengeance this fall. We knew we were going to be good, and when the season began we went out and proved that SAS was a contender this year. Jon and DeSalvo led the team with their poise and skill, and with many new players stepping up into starting roles and playing well, we came out and won or tied 14 of our 18 games. This was a team characterized by a stifling defense that never allowed more than two goals in a game all year. D only gave up 11 goals in 16 regular season games. Goldsworthy, Rhame, and Devlin also had incredible years attributing to the lack of goals scored. On the offensive side Jon led the way with Scott close behind setting up many goals with his passing. Christian, despite the amount of cards he accumulated, was a strong performer all year, as were Jeff and Gino. Larkum's skill on the ball was amazing, especially against Dover with the entire school on hand to watch us upset the #4 team in the state. Unfortunately our season ended two games short of our goal, the state championship, but we had an incredible run this year, and best of luck to the 2000 team as they continue the of dominance in St. Andrew's Soccer.

Field Hockey

This year the Saints' Field Hockey team exceeded everyone's expectations by having our best season in history. The final record of 14-3-3 and second place ranking did not come easily, the team face many obstacles (having only eight returning players, the loss of Anne Farland from the line-up due to injury, and numerous overtimes), but these challenges only brought us closer together and closer to the state finals. The memory of the State semi-final game will never be forgotten because it showed how much the entire team had improved and how close we were to clenching the state championship. The cheer "Whole heart, no mercy, no regrets" echoes the way that our season went; by giving everything that we had, we could only be proud of how our season ended.

It was an honor to play with you and be your captain, thank you. Best of luck and have fun to the 2000 team and all of those to follow.

The Sound Of Music

There we were. All together in a circle grasping hands. Looking in to one and another's eyes. The hour was approaching for our first performance and the cast was doing the tradition pre-performance pulse. Mrs. McTaggart told us to look at each person and realize how essential we all are to the play. As we looked around images of practice upon practice flashed in our minds. Each person brought a special eliment to the stage.

As we looked around everyone seemed a little nervous but the general feeling was still excitement. Then finally the band begun and we started. The energy was fantastic. Our voices projected and the singing was superb. As we took our bows that first night we all looked at one another and realized what we had just accomplished. Fortunatly the next night was even better. During our bows the final night the crowd roared. We had done it and it felt great. Our hills were alive with the sound of music.

Women's Basketball

Wow....

What a year we had this year. Needless to say we rule and are a force to be reckoned with especially considering that Delaware Girls' Basketball is fiercely competitive (and surprisingly similar to Girls Lax in Delaware). This year's Varsity Girls Basketball team raked in the wins this year to top off one of the most impressive seasons in SAS history. Once again simply adding to the superiority and elitist, oops, I meant elite skills of the girls teams here at SAS.

And why wouldn't we be good with such members such as Heidi "the Reverend" Pierce, Emily "the sass-monger" Pfeiffer, and Liz "the too old to play in 95% of our games" Grant leading the way we were unstoppable. And let's not forget that we were being backed by one of the toughest teams in the state.

And who can forget such amazing coaches. First of all any team led by Ms. LeBlanc can't lose, and second; with assistant Coaches Nasty Nate Costa and Dieselhead Jim, who, along with his personalized clipboard, was keeping things in strict order while handling the stresses of his everyday work at the school (which consists of compiling weekend sheets).

And a special shout out to Tommy "the man" Burns, the best "man" anger in the world.

Men's Squash

The men's squash team had a very successful season although it was not reflected in our final record of 3-9. This season was one of great improvement for the entire team with a very strong finish against the Hill School and a good 4th place showing at the Mid-Atlantic Tournament. Such a strong finish ensures a strong season next year led by Scott Kennedy and Ted Unger, and David Knott who finished the season with the best individual records for the team. With twice as much time spent on the road than on the court we learned a great deal about each other and had a great time. Hot topics of conversation included Gieske's bad boxer fashion, Knott's never ending joke book and Koprowski's constant factoids. Thanks guys for a great season. - Muff

Women's Squash

Under the dynamic leadership of Susan "Crumbs" Clarkson, we established ourselves as a dominant force in the Women's Squash World. In short, we were good, damn good. Unfortunately due to time restraints on the courts, we only practiced half an hour a day (and Susan slept through at least half of those). But Kate, Caroline, and Clay turned up the heat a few degrees adding leadership to a team destined to do well at Mid-Atlantics. We placed second, missing first by mere points in the final game of the final match in the final minute of the final hour. But next year we'll avenge this loss, even if it means that we have to cheat.

Integral in the creating the dominatrix that was Women's Squash was Mr. Speers. He taught us how to play with an intensity unknown to most professional athletes. His English analogy describing our team as a "wet eagle on a dry night" made us turn up the heat if I may use that analogy once more. But now I would describe us a DRY eagle on a WET night; a team that truly came together to face adversity right in the eyes time and time again. We look forward to next year.

Go Saints!?

Wrestling

This year, the wrestling squad performed exceptionally well in all our meets finishing up with a 6-6 season. With nearly thirty boys out for the team, we were even able to fill up a JV roster. Led by captains Dave Patterson and Nick Conell, the varsity finished third in the conference. The highlight of the season was the DISC tournament in which Nick Conell, Dave Patterson, and Greg King were conference champions. An incredible four wrestlers qualified for the state tournament and one alternate. Our performance at this tournament, competing with the sixteen best wrestlers in the state, reflected the high level of wrestling that we achieved this year. An outstanding coaching staff were largely responsible for such a successful season. With many experienced wrestling returning next year, we look forward to another outstanding season to come.

Swimming & Diving

In the words of James Heckman, this year's boy's swim season was, "RE-MARKABLE!" With Tawny Barnard(our coach) at the helm, our team was made up of mostly first year swimmers, who battled against the odds to finish up with our most successful season ever. Having only three seniors on our team we needed strong performances from everyone in order to get the results we desired. And did we have strong performances a plenty. Eric Muller dropped 30 seconds in the 200 free, while the 200 medley relay team made up of Doug Brayton, Joey Hickman, Henry Palmer, and Nick Kinney broke the school record by 5 seconds and placed third at the state meet, and individually the freshman phenom Nick Kinney broke the school record in the 100 breaststroke by 3 seconds.

Overall our season turned out to be so much more than we expected. We placed seventh in the state, which was overall an incredible feat for our team, having not been ranked all season. Our season could have been no where near as successful as it was, if it hadn't been for our outstanding coach. Tawny, with her innovative training techniques, motivated us to end up being the successes we were. We owe Tawny for every success we had with this season, and there is no doubt that we couldn't have done it with out her. We would like to thank all of you who supported us throughout our season. You all were also an asset to our team, and we couldnt have achieved our goals without you.

Love Doug, Joey, and Dave

This year the women's swimming and diving team had an amazing season! We survived "Late Nights With Lundy" (i.e. night practices), the VASA trainer, CAMP!, shark attacks, hairy legs, and the grueling sport that is swimming. Team 'Koff had a great year learning and perfecting their strokes, taking novice swimming to new heights. The divers had an awesome season with many of them qualifying for states. The team who went to states had an unbelievable meet winning the second place trophy!

We would like to thank Ms. Creskoff, Emily, Tawny, and of course Dr. Evil...we mean Mr. Smith. Without you we don't know where we would be, probably out of shape. Thank you Mr. Smith for all you have done for the swimming program at St. Andrew's and for the impact you have had on all of our lives. We will truly miss you. Good luck to next year's team and remember "purple, purple, purple, pink"!

Men's Basketball

The Saints have returned to the basketball court with an uncanny display of hard-nosed, cutthroat basketball that kept all crowds at the edge of their seats. By earning their third straight spot in the state tournament, every team they played were in for a battle to the end. Led by captains Graham "Stretch" Worth '01, and LeMar "Mr. Dynamite" McLean '00, the team improved from last year's record by mauling the opposition on the defensive end and playing a fast-paced, clockwork offense that made teams go insane. As the center of the offense, Stretch got the ball pushed down the court by his domination of the defensive glass, while wingmen Kodi "Shay-Shao" Shay '00 and Andrew "Talent" DeSalvo '00, frequently streaked down the court to make the fast break conversions with ease. Slowing it down in the half court, the focus switched to Mr. Dynamite who baffled defenders with his patented "Lefty Slice". And with Talent draining threes, Michael Graham '02 running the show at the one spot, Stretch creating off the dribble virtually every time, and Shay Shao grabbing the offensive boards, the Saints hardly left any offensive possession unfinished. And as Nick Sabloff '00 and Richard "Momma" Hutton '01 showed off their long distance expertise, and Jay Rhame '00 and Will Oakley '00 gave the team huge sparks coming off the bench, it became no wonder why this team was a contender for the State Title.

A Day in the life of...

The typical St. Andrian always starts their day off with a pre-breakfast shower...

Followed by breakfast sign in...

Then the model student returns to finish the cleaning he or she has started the night before...

Primping and dressing can always take more time up than you think...

But usually they will find something that looks just right...

A long day of classes follows where the students sit and watch paying attention to every last detail...

While people with free periods work quietly in their rooms...

Everyone of course loves the food here and during dinner no one ever eats out...

After dinner the model St. Andrian can be found having fun on the front lawn or maybe by the grass docks...

Then at 7:30 each night the school settles down in a place of study...

Finally we all are so tired that by the time we go back on corridor, we go right to sleep...

But at the end of the day we all know, Big Brother is watching us!!!

We Introduce You to...

Due to the limited size of the SAS community the Griffen has taken it upon itself to introduce the SAS community to a group of outsiders that could very well change our lives. These people have all lead distinguished lives in their perspective fields. So without further adieu we introduce you too...

SAISL

The 1999-2000 indoor soccer season was a little more docile than it has been in previous years. There were no brawls, no outpouring of spectators, no men dressed in girls clothing this year, and what the hell ever happened to SAISL Weekly? But whatever SAISL 99-00 lacked in flair and effective leadership from Matt and D, it made up for in style and skill. Yes, believe it or not, this year SAISL came close to being a legitimate league. Even No Skills, in defiance of all tradition and common sense, tried to compete fairly on the floor (some times) and showed their talent for the game. Many other changes were made this year as well. For the first time in recorded history, girls were permitted to actually take part in the SAISL administration. It was hoped by many that naming Julia and Abigail commissioners would usher in a new respect for girls in SAISL. Well, that didn't work too well, but we all had fun. Memorable moments include Santa playing goal, not one, but two balls kicked into the rafters, and Mike Warner's declaration of "Fiji Time" shortly before his team went 'X.' All in all, SAISL brought St. Andreans together during the murky winter months, and united the students against their common enemy, the faculty, who fell for the first time ever against a highly stacked Team Fischer. Well done.

"I feel like a hundred dollars."

"The bashful are always aggressive at heart."

"I love you like the stars above, I'll love you till I die."

Thank you- to Pete, Meg, Steph, Sarah, Mom, and Dad, you all mean more to me than you will ever know; to every teacher that I have ever had, especially Mr. Denning, Mrs. Caldwell, Ms. Roche, Mr. Rue, Mr. Gieske, and Mr. Talvacchio; EMG, ICF, HPH, ACD, ALB- "If you live to be a hundred, I want to be a hundred minus a day, so I never have to live a day without you;" also thanks to- JMT, MSG, CCC, HLP, SMC, LIL, EDP, EWC, LFL, AEB, ATB, CTS, JBR, MDW, NES, CLM, ADB, Phil- don't get lost on your way to Amos alone next year; M-dorm; Soccer 96-99; Lax 97-00; Mrs. Bride; and Joey- nothing I could ever write could show how I feel about you, so I'll just say thank you, and I love you and hope you know how much.

"The way I see it, if you want the rainbow you have to put up with the rain."

"Memories live not in initial possession but in the hands, pardoned and freed, and in the heart that can empty but fill again in the patterns restored by dreams."

"Too much is how I love you, too well is how I know you"

"I never knew this cheese was free."

"Your friends help you carry the big weight in life. That big burden we've all got called, "What in the hell am I doing?"

"The fun isn't in having a lot to do, it's in having a lot to do and not doing it."

"I just hope it was okay, I know it wasn't perfect. I hope that in the end we can laugh and say it was all worth it."

"I no doubt deserved my enemies, but I don't believe I deserved my friends"

Now, after all is said and done "you know what the worst part I never learned to read."

Origins: Thanx to God for all the blessings and guidance I have been granted.

Roots: Mom, Dad, Claire, no combination of words can describe all the love and support you have given me. I am eternally grateful and I love you.

Praise: To Mr. Bates for 3 years of advising and support, you always kept the faith and I thank you for all you have done.

Respects: For all the teachers who have made St. Andrew's what it is: Chang, Talvacchio, Gieske, Hyde, Colburn, McTaggart, Roach, DeSalvo, McGiff

Wisdom: He walks towards an imminent, self given death? I think not for he has at last found an atom of faith in himself, a true uniqueness, on which to build: has already begun, though he would bitterly deny it, though there are tears in his eyes to support his denial, to realize that life is not a symbol, is not one riddle and failure to guess it, is not to inhabit one face alone or to be given up after one losing throw of the dice; but is to be, however inadequately, emptily, hopelessly into the city's iron heart, endured. And out again, upon the unplumb'd, salt, estranging sea. - Fowles Denouement: In the darkness of the night, stranded in the most cobbwebbed corner of your soul, find me.... I'm lost without you

These are the days of rain,
We pull together in days of pain.
We share the beginnings, we share the ends. It's worth it in all these days to be the best of friends."

"We laughed together
We swore together
We struggled together
Sure we laughed at stupid things
And swore unnecessarily
but damn it was fun."

"Truly great friends are hard to find, harder to leave, and impossible to forget...". A Special Thanks to: Coutney-my fellow "Jefferson Scholar" I will never forget the laughs we've shared. Finally, to Mom, Dad, and Michael: thank you for your love support and sacrifices. I am forever indebted to you.

Michael

Shout out to the Shaovach Crew, you know who you are, thanks for the all the good times, I'll cherish the memories forever.

Artie: Thank you Artie for being there whenever I needed you. Your friendship means more than you know. I will always remember everything, from late night romps to falling asleep listening to Seem your love and friendship has kept me going. Thank you.

Jay: Your such a great friend. We have had so much fun, from Atlantic's first 50 to Fifa, the games we invented and the fun we had will stay in my heart forever. Oh, and if there is ever a Subway series... we're there.

Laurence: The fact that we are no longer going to school together upsets me to no end. Our time together has been pretty chill. Actually it has been very chill. I'll never forget you. Your Nuts! Thank You

Chris: Well how can I sum up our three years in three sentences. Well I can't. You and I have been through so much. I can not begin to tell how happy I am that we ended up on top... and Chris, it bothers me because I care. Thank You.

"There ain't no use in being anything but happy" -Charley Blackma

Family: your love and support have gotten me through so much love. Edward Manet

There is a coherence in things, a stability. Soemthing, she meant, is immune from change and shines out in the face of the flowing, the fleeting, the spectral, like a ruby: so that again tonight she had the feeling she had had once today, already peace, or rest. Of such moments, she thought, the thing is made that endure.

"Promise me, Pooh, that you will never forget me. Because if you did, I wouldn't leave."

Kate: You've kept me sane the last two years. I don't think that I could have made it without you. I will miss you tremendously. You are a true friend; one that I will never forget. Julia: We've been through some tough times, but our friendship holds strong. Thanks for being you! Court: You've always been there for me, and I forever thank you for all that you have done in my life. Heids: We were CRAZY! Your endless energy has inspired me not only to go wild, but also to let go and live my life. Thank you! Ings: I cannot even begin to mention all of the good times. You always cheer me up, and help me "live my life less seriously." Blee-onh! Mere: I'll never forget sophomore year.

Although we have grown apart, your overflowing happiness and kindness has made me forever your friend. Annie, Susan, Clay, Lacy, Kate M., Ashley, Julie T., Emily, Lucy, Abigail, Hilary, Lavanya, Sarah, and Caroline: Thank you for all the memories; you all mean tons to me. I love you all! If my words seem brief, forgive me, and know in your hearts that each of you means more to me than words can express. Thanks for the laughter, the tears, and everything in between. "Somehow I know we'll meet again. I don't know just where and I don't know just when, but you're in my heart, so until then, it's time to say goodbye."

Jay, Mike, Andrew, Rupert, Laurence, Morgan, Kodi, Artie, Joey, Andrew D., Matt K., Marcelo, Dave, Slates and Doug: Thank you all for your friendship; you all mean so much to me. I love you all!

"I love you not only for who you are, but for what I am when I am with you."

Anne: "I love you to the moon... and back."
Sara: We've known each other forever. You are part of me.

"It's not easy being green."

well worth it, but chiefly because I shall never have to do it again."

"My cup runneth over."

om: Thanks for being there, and more importantly, thanks for being a friend. d: I hope that you know you mean the world to me. Who I am, I owe to both of u. I love you both! Cart: What can I y, I've followed in your footsteps for as long as I can remeber. Thanks for blazing the trail. You are my example, my guide. Thank you. I love you with all my heart.

lie G., Anne W., Andrew D., Mike L., ia R., and Elizabeth: Good luck next ar. I will miss you! All my girls on Pell: I ve you! MKD, EMR, MCM, GEL, RBR, NA, NAM, Dan-a-bird!, MBB, AND C: Thank you for all of time that each of u has given me in and out of the ssroom. Your guidance and encourage- ment has made me a better person.

The Fam(there through it all): Big Wally, Mrs. Hunter-Shay, Jaleel, Gramas (Hunter and Shay), Auntie, Aunt Diane + Uncle Freddy, and Aunt Phyllis. What would I be without you people? Nothing. You made me and I thank you, very much.

Faculty members who have influenced/inspired me, or to whom I owe thanks: Beakage, Mel B., JBB, DFC, Big Edmond, Mr. Colburn, The DeSalvo Clan, Giesk, The Giffster, PKM, Mr. Roach, Rueziz, Mrs. Simendinger, Mr. and Mrs. Hyde, Papa K, Mr. Speers, Al Wood (the ankle feels great).

DeSalv- I'll admit, you got some talent on ya. I hope I didn't waste my time with you. Thanks for the calls when I was home.
 LeMar- How long has it been? Long enough. You my "main man." This has been fun.
 Sabloff- Funny guy. I'll be up in Chicago soon. I can't get enough of you, man. You helped to keep me stable.
 Matt- We been through it all; Sharon, DC's, rooming together. You my boy, thanx for real. I owe all ya'll.

Thanks to my family: Dad, Mom, Laurie, Ricky Katie, Katie Jane, Elizabeth, Christine, Alec, Grandma, Gram, and everyone else: Your support and guidance and love have helped me tremendously my whole life. I owe you everything. Thank you.

Kodi, you've been my best friend since day 1 and for that I thank you. Your friendship and your humor have been invaluable to me.

LeMar, my man what can I say? Who's runnin' it!? Your strength and your friendship have always meant a great deal to me. Thank you.

Nick, It's hard to believe that out time together is up. Thank you for your humor and your friendship these past 3 years.

Andrew, We've come a long way together. Throughout it all you've been there for me and for that I thank you.

Katie: It's strange to think how far we've come together. My whole life you've been my sister and my best friend. I can never thank you enough for everything you've done for me. I love you.

Special Thanks to: Sarah Bowers for cold mornings in freezing hallways, Kate Morris, Chris Lange for "plotting, observing," and friendship, Amanda for Old Dad, Genevieve, Artie, Mike for a broken sternum, Lucy for never letting me be too serious, Jon King, Pedro, and the entire Class of 2000. It's been a wild ride. Thank you all.

the Shaovach Crew: Thanks for all the good times. Late night brew, passing the bud and every other memory will be with me forever.

the Cru- Mr Dynamite, Shay-Shao, Sabloff, DeSalv, and Muff: We came and did it all and through everything we stuck together. There's nothin left to say. You know I love you guys. Let's get it Gentlemen.

To all the faculty here and to my family: without you I would not be the person I am today, and for that I thank you immensely. To the people that I didn't individually thank on this page, don't take it personally. To all the SAS students, you made these four years the best of my life. To AEB, CCC, HLP, EMG, JMT, KBM, LHB, DAB, NJC, PAD, RAF, AAG, ABG, JAH, SKK, JTM, DAN, DGP, JBR, MBS, SHS, JPT, RLV, MDW, AFD, RLC, EAA, JCW, CCW, and MMF, y'all have given me so many of the memories that have made my SAS years great. Finally, to my four best friends, I can't put into words how much your friendships have meant to me. Kodi and Nick, your humor has kept me going through many of the days I thought world never end. Matt, you've always been there for me if I needed anything and I can't thank you enough for that. LeMar, yo you're my family for life, I'm there for you anytime. The four of you are the best friends I ever had, and I love y'all.

Do unto men as they would do unto you...BUT DO IT FIRST!

I'll never forget the time that we all shared together. Where when it came to fun, expense was no object. A conglomeration of some of the best seniors to set foot on this campus along with two cool ass teachers got together to form what will forever be known as the crew that never ceased to amaze themselves and anyone who had a taste of them. If you've ever danced late at night to Beck, or have ever passed the word, you know that I am talking about the one and only... SHAO-VACH REW!!!

Thank my family most of all for putting up with me throughout all the changes that they didn't witness.

Well, the ride's finally over, but I wouldn't give any of it back. Many teachers have helped me not regret a moment despite all the ups and plethora of downs:

Ms. Bride: Who always wanted me to get off my lazy ass. Thanks.

Mr. Ramirez: Who always cared and knew what was wrong without me saying a word. Gracias.

Mr. Matouk: Who not only told me to stop being lazy, but also joined in with me for procrastination sessions. It was fun.

Mr. Henschel: Fellow knucklehead, for opening my mind to new ideas and helping us all mellow out. Later on.

Mr. Wordzez: Who taught me more about being unique than any teacher could in a classroom, and for filling the void of a male role model in this crazy place, I could never repay that. Wordzez.

Rose, Late Summer

What happens to the leaves after they turn red and golden and fall away? What happens to the singing birds

when they can't sing
any longer? What happens to their quick wings?

Do you think there is any personal heaven
for any of us?
Do you think anyone,

the other side of that darkness,
will call to us, meaning us?
Beyond the trees
the foxes keep teaching their children to live in the valley.

So that they never seem to vanish, they are always there in the blossom of light that stands up every morning

in the dark sky.
And over one more set of hills,
along the sea,
The last roses have opened their factories of sweetness

and are giving it back to the world.
If I had another life
I would want to spend it all on some unstinting happiness.

I would be a fox, or a tree
full of waving branches.
I wouldn't mind being a rose in a field full of roses.

Fear has not yet consumed them, nor ambition.
Reason they have not yet thought of.
Neither do they ask how long they must be roses, and then what.
Or any other foolish question.
-Mary Oliver-

Special thanks to: dottie, ray and all the SAS staff, nebel (the american), akil, nick (my jazz band buddy), bae meredith (good morning class!), artie and mike (bch), ingrid, meg (mmmegg), sarah, emily, julie (i swear we were chasing deer!), alex, peter, ulf (silly german), lemar, kodi (i have nothing to say to you), teach, jon, doug talking), oakley, rick (maybe life will get better as we get older)(on second thought-no).

Matt, lorinda, nicole- I have never doubted that you three will be successful. Just don't step on all of the little people you meet on your way. they might be useful later on...

Hannah and laura- innocence is only a title that the non-innocent give to those who have yet to allow their perversion to surface...

David gray- whenever your name is spoken, I smile. I don't think that anyone's name has made me so happy...

Maria, cristina, kate- With you I learned NOT to look forward to the sunrises... Thank you for all of your support in good times and the very worst of times.

Jennifer, tara, geeyeon- "The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams." -Eleanor Roosevelt don't ever stop dreaming... you three can accomplish far beyond your dreams!

To all my teachers for the past four years- you have been patient and supportive role models for me, even when I know that I was a pain in the ass for the year (or two) (or THREE!). Thank you for your love of teaching.

To Dee-Dee and Benjy- Thank you for all of your love... and traumatic experiences. Who cares if we ain't normal?

Brad- You are the best and the worst of brothers rolled into one. Do you still want to take me back to the hospital?

-W. B. Yeats-

Like as the waves make towards the pebbled shore,
So do our minutes hasten to their end,
Each changing place with that which goes before;
In sequent toil all forwards do contend.
Nativity, once in the main of light,
Crawls to maturity, wherewith being crowned
Crooked eclipses 'gainst his glory fight,
And time that gave doth now his gift confound.
Time doth transfix the flourish set on youth,
And delves the parallels in beauty's brow;
Feeds on the rarities of nature's truth,
And nothing stands but for his scythe to mow.
And yet to times in hope my verse will stand,
Praising thy worth despite his cruel hand.

-Shakespeare-

Another page in another book. Another name amongst the many. The myriad of things I had to say now seems to fade and few remain. The words of wisdom all seem trite. So, I leave you all who read this simple page with just the few things my mind retains. Perhaps you will not like the names perhaps do not either, but these words ring true and the message is clear. Some people say that a picture is worth a thousand words...well, I do not know that those thousand words are what I wish to say, so here I go, without a picture to attempt to say in my few words what I learned in my four years.

"Oh, what a tangled web we weave when first we practice to deceive..."

Today it is my firm belief that in general all creative ideas appear in youth, provided that they are present at all... of those I promised to say a word of, here is your moment:

ing – It has been a long four years and you have been there all the way through it.

Thank you for it all. You were, though it may seem odd, a bastion of sanity for me through my time here.

Lange – You alone could stand up to my constant barrage of cynicism and cruelty. You alone were also the best at incurring it. If it means anything at all I would look to you first for advise, though I would not always take it. Thank you for every day from cross-country to...well, it's not graduation yet.

w DeSalvo – You know best that I can vent, and I thank you for all the times you had to listen to me complain about one thing or another. You are a great person to be able to listen to my complaints ever so often.

Wolinski – So the time has come when we move on. I know we will be in touch simply because if it is anyone who will be with me on my crusade to take over the world it will be you. Thank you for all the late night walks, it was great to have someone to walk with those nights and the rest of the year.

e Ansell – So, the shinning diva has made her way on to greater things. You said so many times that you wanted to get to know me better, but you already knew me so well. I hope you realize just how much you meant to my year.

Bowers – You are a woman. All woman. Thank you for being such a "unique" <wink> person. Thank you for appreciating our friendship, and thank you for...well not everything, but most everything. You are one of the people I enjoyed being around most, through thick and thin.

Hirsh – You know, I could say some pretty vulgar things, but I think this is a medium for more sentimental things. Thank you for being there permanently. I knew I could depend on you for everything I needed. Even I lack words to tell you hoe important you are to me.

w Kumpuris – It's another year for you young man before you get to walk up for your diploma. You will make it though...if you are careful. Don't let yourself change too much, I like the way you are. Thank you for everything.

er McLean – Do not forget, no matter what that you can see things other people can't. Do not forget, no matter what that there are reasons you think the things you do. Even if we never see each other again (not likely but thinkable) remember what you are and I give my word I will too.

And so I come to another ending and all my words may have been for naught. I know you are mad at me for not putting your name on this page, and whoever you are, sorry, it's 1:59 on the last day when I can turn this in and I am at the very bottom of my page...bye.

Jon- From the time you came to greet the new junior next door, you've been a far better friend than I ever deserved. You've talked with me, advised me, argued with me, and laughed with me for two years, and in that time you've made every moment of stress and frustration up here worthwhile. I truly don't know what to say except for thank you. Thank you for being my friend.

Dave- Since I met you, you've impressed me with the friendship and kindness you extend to everyone you meet. Despite all the teasing jokes, you've been an example to me in so many ways, constantly reminding me to be nicer, more considerate, and more understanding of the people around me. I'm going to miss you so much, but I'll always remember you as an example of true kindness.

Before anyone else, I have to thank my parents. Whenever I've needed support, encouragement, or just someone to talk to, they've been right there, no matter what. I also want to thank the people who've shaped my life here: Barret (Rat), Troutman (the Elfking), and Dolan- for their humor, enthusiasm, and doses of weirdness whenever I got too sane. Steve "AP" Wu- for being a good guy when we weren't arguing, and for having a lot of cool movies. Jennifer "Diva" Daise- for just being the wonderful person she is and reminding me of what people are truly capable of. Pedro- for making life interesting. Very interesting. Basil- for showing me that I'm not the ultimate in weirdness. Kim- Smile. Every day. Jenn- for making being a senior SO much fun. Never fear; someday, you, too, will be a senior. Robbie- for just being able to know him. It's been a privilege. Mrs. McTaggart- for making theater more fun than I ever thought it could be. College acting will never measure up. (and Cara- for your smiles at every practice. I wish I could just wait around to watch you grow up.) Mr. Beckman- for having to fill the shoes of an incredible man... and succeeding more than I ever expected. Mr. Cheban- for teaching me so much more than just music, and putting up with me through all of my screw-ups. I miss you. Mr. Wong- for being a friend as well as an advisor. Your class has been a high point of my days, and your understanding helped me survive my first days here. And to anyone I left out- you're not forgotten. Thank you.

The Very Special Thanks.

Mom, Dad, Les and Craig. The four of you have done an infinte amount of things for me throughout my life, and I don't think that any yearbook message can express how much I thank you and love you all.

Greg, attending this school was made possible by you, and I hope that this humble attempt to thank you for everything you have done for me is satisfactory.

Lost Along the Way...

To the missing members of the class of 2000: Sasha, Allison, Nick, Andrew, Graham, Max, Peter, Jeremiah, B.J., Alex, Bechir, P.J., Scott, Kiel, Ulf, and Rick--We hope you are doing well wherever you may be, and wish you good luck in the future.

Nicole Ansell: Being proved wrong, and not happy about it
Alex Baer: Mrs. Conell

Anna Bagwell: A well-honored romance novelist who writes her childhood memoirs entitled Onancock is where I want to be

Lavanya Balasubramanian: Living in Park City, Utah, after suing the government for millions of dollars in a discrimination law suit claiming no one ever gave her enough space on forms to write her last name

Anne Barber: Still in long-distance relationship with Chris Fouts

Ashley Bergland: A rocket scientist, no, seriously

Laurence Birdsey: Has come a long way since the days of being forced to sleep in the hallway outside his own room

Sarah Bowers: An expert on Tyrannosaurus-Rex D...NA

Julia Bozick: Mrs. Joey Hickman, at least for today

Doug Brayton: "I love them high school girls, because I keep getting older and they stay the same age."

Genevieve Cadwalader: Row, row, rowing her boat gently down the stream

Laura Callaway: Suffering same fate as Goeller

Lacy Caruthers: House in the suburbs, a white picket fence, two car garage, 2.5 kids and a nice dog.

Susan Clarkson: Late, very late, you get the idea

Nick Conell: Having an immensely successful career as a politician, and is known for precise wording of answers to key questions about his past. For example, when asked about his childhood recklessness, he responds confidently "I never drank 'on' the front lawn."

Emily Constantine: Plotting to kill Chris Fouts

Courtney Cordeiro: Hoping to age like her mother

Jennifer Daise: Tone-deaf

Pedro Dalmau: Evolves into a world-wide icon, although despised by Europe, especially France, after the meter and the entire metric system are replaced by the Pedro.

Abigail DeLashmutt: Against her better judgement, and on the down low, follows Clay to Utah

Andrew DeSalvo: Seeing a chiropractor for an apparent curve in his back which causes his head and neck to tilt to the right menacingly

Clay Farland: Becomes a Mormon just so she can have a chance to share Slates with whomever

Artie Fischer: Lonely, see Meredith Goeller

Ingrid Fogle: Consoling Goldsworthy with her own hair trauma

Akil Geddie: Still a Big Bad Fubu Daddy

Rupert Gerard: See Susan Clarkson

Tara Gilbreath: Finally achieves Globalization in the Tara Gilbreath game.

Meredith Goeller: Single

Andrew Goldsworthy: President of the Hair Club for Men

Liz Grant: Despite being happily married she still complains to every guy she meets that "No one will hook up with me."

David Gray: 65

Mark Hall: A train conductor, driving the Red Star Express

Hilary Hammell: Bragging about Laurence's accomplishments

Joey Hickman: Still admiring the shower 'head' in Warner's bathtub

Leslie Hirsh: First woman to define the length of one Pedro

Bobby Holtzclaw: Hit by a bus when he tries to cross the street reading a Star Wars book.

Matt Keyser: Thrown out of the Naval Academy for giving his officers too much lip.

Kelly Kim: Still not related to Sung Kim

Sung Kim: Still shutting off the outside world with his headphones

Jon King: Still trying to figure out the last digit of pi

Chris Lange: A compulsively dirty, Grateful Dead loving, loose change to Burger King bringing, blank tape selling, con artist/happy hobo who coins the street name Ace

Lorinda Laryea: Proprietor of the Lo-Lo doll, unfortunately callbacks are made because when string is pulled doll never shuts up

Lucy Long: Foolishly rendezvousing with Doug Brayton on top of the Cameron building.

LeMar McLean: Still claiming that all the honeys at his high school basketball games were in love with him

Marcelo Macedo: A compulsively neat, Star Wars loving, scrub suit to Burger King bringing, gray fleece wearing, accountant/happy Laurence admirer who coins the corporate name William

Jon Marvel: Makes millions inventing post hook up icy hot pad for gentleman called "The Bear Grip"

Hide Miyahara: On his plane flight home crashes on a deserted island, later kills himself finding there is no community to serve

Kate Morris: Raising a healthy house full of young Tar Heels except for that one "devil" child named Blue.

Maria Morse: Phone sex operator

Dave Nebel: Seeing a psychiatrist in an attempt to remember his true personality from those of the people he mocks

Meg Nicoll: Meeting classmates for the first time at reunion

Will Oakley: Finally earns enough money to go back and buy those cargo pants

Hannah Osier: Fronting a ska cover band that becomes an administrative favorite singing the Reel Big Fish tune "Sell Out."

Dale Park: Finally arrested for stealing his rec. league's hockey equipment.

Dave Patterson: Chasing Wilt Chamberlain's record.

Heidi Pearce: "Two-time" Olympic champion

Emily Pfeiffer: Goes into a severe depression when her husband, the quarterback for the Redskins, is killed in a football accident. Unfortunately no one was there to comfort her because they didn't know they were married.

Julie Post: Still insisting that she and Huangfu were really just "practicing" all those times

Jay Rhame: Never sails again after a disturbing incident with a magic "8-ball"

Nick Sabloff: The only person in the world without a nickname

Caroline Salas: In hiding from midgets who desire her third kidney

Christina Sandoval: Getting introduced to people by Meg Nicoll

Morgan Scoville: Installing Cheban's cable hook-up

Kodi Shay: A psychiatrist specializing in anger-management

Laura Sibert: Host of her own early morning "active" fitness program

Slates Snider: Rich, arrogant, yet unstoppably charming, he becomes the financial success story of St. Andrew's. When called by the SAS representatives at his home in Salt Lake City to donate money, the school explains to him "It's okay that you used the school as your personal kicking bag, that's an acceptable way to treat someone who's like a brother to you."

Annie Taylor: A scientist determined to discover the variability of genetics

Julie Teach: A pool shark

Jamie Todhunter: Develops into a heartthrob to young girls around the world with his ubiquitous "Got Muff" posters

Rick Venutolo: Back at SAS creating the school's new Internet page

Michael Warner: eXtremely eXcited about becoming an eXecutive at XeroX

Kate Wilkinson: Completely insensitive

Matt Wolinski: Impeached

Now the joys of the road are chiefly these:
A crimson touch on the hard-wood trees;
A shadowy highway cool and brown
Alluring up and enticing down
The outward eye, the quiet mill,
And the standing heart from hill to hill;
Delusion afar, delight anear,
From morrow to morrow, from year to year,
A jack-o'-lantern, a fairy fire,
A dare, a bliss and a desire!
These are the joys of the open road-
For him who travels without a load.

The Beginning

"Where have I come from, where did you pick me up?" the baby asked its mother.

She answered, half crying, half laughing, and clasping the child to its breast.

You were my first-born, my first as its desire, my darling, my first-born.

You were in the midst of my childhood's games; and with my play I made the image of my god every morning. I made and unmade you then.

You were enthralled with our household deity, in his worship I worshipped you.

In all my joys and my loves, in my life, in the life of my mother, you have lived.

In the lap of the deathless Spirit who rules our home you have been nursed for ages.

When I gathered my heart was opening its petals, you hovered as a fragrance about it.

Your tender softness bloomed in my youthful flanks, like a glow in the sky before sunrise.

Heavenly my darling, twin-born with the morning's light, you have floated down the stream of the world's life, and at last you have stranded on my heart.

As I gaze on your face, mystery ever enlightens me, you who have been to all have become mine.

For ever adoring you I hold you tight to my breast. When I gaze, I have shared the world's treasure in these slender arms of mine.

POEM FOR DAN'S DEPARTURE

So much do we love
Talking to people we love
About ideas we love
That thinking becomes a conversation
With people we love about ideas we love.

Being your mother
Became a conversation
Where your quiet ideas furthered
The attachment first fastened
In the far configurations
Of destiny.

I am honored to have converse
Loaned your chair to me,
Adding such to my conversations
To the constellation of conversations
That I am blessed to have
For, however far we are,
Your considerate voice stays with me,
Enlightening my thinking

I wish I could give you
A small package of whatever I know
That is worth knowing
To take with you wherever you go.

I wish you would call me from time to time
And tell the part of me that is you
Where your part of the conversation
Is going.

 You are a gift from God. You bring joy and laughter to all around you. When you sing God speaks, with your voice you usher in His Presence. Always use your gift to bring Glory to His name.

It is good to give thanks to the Lord, to sing praises to your name, O Most High; to declare your steadfast love in the morning, and your faithfulness by night, to the music of the lute and the harp, to the melody of the lyre. For you, O Lord, have made me glad by your work; at the works of your hands I sing for joy.

HAPPINESS & HEALTH MAY YOU FIND
AND SUCCESS IN THE THINGS YOU CHOOSE TO DO.

CONGRATULATIONS AND THANKS ST. ANDREWS!

WE LOVE YOU,

MOM, DAD, ALEXANDER, KATE, AND ALICE

Michael,
We cheer you,
we applaud you,
and give you a standing ovation!

Michael,
Congratulations! We're two of a kind!
Love,
Jenny

MICHAEL,
CONGRATULATIONS
& LOVE
"FROM THOSE WHO CAN'T BE WITH YOU"

We love you, Matt, and we are so proud of you.

Take care and God bless!

Cherish your memories of St. Andrew's
and carry them with you wherever the future brings you.

Love,
Mom,
Dad,
Nelson,
and Elizabeth

Sons grow so fast.
One minute they are in your arms, the next, they are striding away.
I love you as you were, as you are, as you will be.

Photographs fade.
Memories blur.
But, to me, the happiness of the past years remains alive.
Thank you for them.

Parents have dreams for their sons -- but the sons have dreams of their own.
May they all come true --
may you astonish yourself in discovering all that you can do !

CHRIS, WE LOVE YOU !

Mom DAD Eric

Congratulations Kate!
Love,
Mom, Dad, Charlie and Rebecca Congratulations, Sarah Bowers!

We're very proud of you.

*Love,
Dad, Mom and

Thank you, St. Andrew's faculty, administration, staff, students...1990-2000. We will miss you.

Congratulations, Sung! We love you and are very proud of you.

Dear our sweet Sung,
You've come a long way!
You made the decision to step ahead and you succeeded beautifully.

--Mom, Dad, and Justin

Congratulations to the class of 2000.
Thanks to SAS and the class of 2000 for being part of Sung's journey.

Congratulations Heidi!
We are very proud of you.

Love,
Mom, Dad and Tommy

Women's Lacrosse

Second in the State

It is sooo rich and sooo very true that the women's lacrosse team has had an incredible season this year! With the outstanding leadership of Heid-diggity, Mere-dog, and Pfeiff-dog, the team battled against the many tough opponents in Delaware. Using their lacrosse sticks for "practice", the team found inspiration in daily feedings by Mrs. Bride, teaching Annie C. things she may not want to know, and of course, Mr. Chilton. The team played with great enthusiasm and talent throughout the season ending with a respectable and hard earned second place finish in the state. The lacrosse team will carry these fond memories of all their accomplishments this season with them always. The team would like to thank their great coaches and all of their fans for a great season. And, may S.G.J. be always with you.

Men's Lacrosse

Men's Lacrosse ended an exciting season with an 11-5 record and many players achieving All-state recognition. Despite their loss to top-ranked Cape Henlopen in the quarter-finals of the State Tournament, they played hard and beat St. Mark's in the first round of the Tournament and enjoyed regular-season victories over Salesianum and Kent County. The Lacrosse team would like to recognize their coach, Matt Flaherty, for receiving the Coach of the Year Award in Delaware. Saints' Baseball 2000

After four straight losses in the opening of the season, Saints baseball wondered if the spring would hold any success for their team. Yet under the leadership of senior captains Michael Warner and Jay Rhame, the team responded to Mr. Colburn's pleas throughout the season to play as a team and not as 14 individuals. Halfway through the season, the team lost a tough game to undefeated Tatnall - particularly frustrating because the team played extraordinarily well behind the superb pitching of Phil Urban '01, who held the team to only one run. But the fight wasn't over - the Saints got a second chance the very next day when the two teams faced off again at Frawley Stadium. If the team lacked great offensive in the first game, they got it back - the Saints won 14-0, and Michael Primiani pitched the fifth no-hitter in all of St. Andrew's recorded history. This memorable game at Frawley Stadium represents the team's 8-9 season as a whole and their 5-3 conference record. Under the guidance of Coaches Colburn, Walker, and Talvacchio, and a terrific group of seniors, Saints' baseball worked together, played to their best ability, and ended with rewarding success.

Women's Crew

This year's women's crew team was exceptionally successful. The lower boats had very competitive seasons and improved greatly. The fours program was rejuvenated and both the Senior 4 and the school's inaugural Junior 4 had strong seasons – both rowing in a new Vespoli Ultra-Lite shell, the "Bertha!" The third boat raced at the New Jersey State Regatta as a second senior 8 and won! The junior 8 also had an incredible season winning both the Stotesbury Cup Regatta and Scholastics. The Varsity Eight won all three cups competing against individual crews. At the Stotesbury Cup Regatta they finished a close second beating the rest of the competition by open water. Scholastics took place on our own Noxontown Pond and the V8 won by several seconds. They look forward to rowing the Royal Henley Regatta in England this summer. The women's crew program would like to recognize the donation of a new Resolute racing shell to the program, in which the Varsity girls rowed with immense pride.

Men's Crew

Every spirited men's boat had an incredible rowing season and the varsity eight led the way with their intensity and charisma. Attributing much of their success this season to a multitude of lucky charms - visors, mismatched dress socks, beaver hats, and the Color Orange - the first boat had a very successful season. The men's crew program would like to thank everyone who have contributed to their unforgettable season, and especially to wish Mr. Brown the best of times on his sabbatical. Coach Brown encouraged the boys throughout the season, and "they took every stroke this year for him." With the help of their dedicated coach, the first boat won the New Jersey State championship and reached the finals in both the Stotesbury Cup and Scholastic Regattas. Finally, the men's crew learned that hungry therapists hunt best.

Men's Tennis

Undefeated Season

Coach Chang anticipated a rebuilding year for boys' tennis, but despite Chang-bang's predictions this year's team stepped up to all their opponents with confidence, courage, and class, ending with an incredible undefeated record for the regular season. Team captains Mike Larkum and Jeff Wieland exemplified a team that was confident, fun, and supportive of each other. Chad Ballard, who last year played exhibition matches, made great progress to this season to earn his spot at third singles. The Saints were well represented in the State Tournament where Gino Terriuolo won the state title in second doubles; SAS placed second in Delaware. As a team, these boys demonstrated the intensity, excitement, and dedication to the game of tennis necessary for a successful season.

Women's Tennis

2000 State Champions

The Women's Tennis Team definitely had something to "clap" for, with an early victory over arch rival Tower Hill, a conference co-championship, and finally a State Championship Title. It was Sassafraashliegh, Santher the Panther, Cap't Kate, Colonel Sanders, Closeph, K-Hawk and Jane who came together with the help of El Giesko. These girls sure went for the jugular. Not only did the team play well but they partied "hard-y" with games of Ultimate, DVD viewing, van singing, and awesome announcements. The encouragement of their loving coach, Mr. Gieske, led the team to an amazing finish. This year's team holds the first Girls' Tennis State Title in four years! Way to go, Saints!

This year's spring production of Tina Howe's Museum, was one of the funniest and best in recent years. The cast of memorable characters including "the birdies," Zoe, Carol and Blakey, Michele Wall, the guards, Giorgio, the Salts and Tink and Mira consisted mainly of seniors. With only four underformers in the production, this was many Andean actors final performance in the Forbes Theater. This talented cast displayed their acting genius each playing several characters in this hilarious interpretation of people's reactions to modern art and museums. Though these seniors were incredible, without the four underformers, the backstage crew and the direction of Ann McTaggart the show could not have gone on. This production commented on the quality of art: "Bruce said this show was shit." "I don't see any stars. I don't see any paint." And on the silliness of the visitors: "You TOUCHED me!" "Blown ... glass?" BRAVO to the cast and crew for an amazing show!

Above: The museum guards, played by Bobby Holtzclaw, Jamie Todhunter and LeMar McLean, lament the demise of society as the visitors to the museum attempt to steal the clothes pins.

Left: Chloe Trapp, played by Maria Morse, is the bizarre museum curator who adores modern art and eloquently lectures on the pieces in the exhibit, "The Broken Silence."

Left: Mr. Gregory, played by David Gray, reacted violently and hilariously to his malfunctioning audio tour. David also played Giorgiò, a pompous visitor to the museum, who raves about the art.

Prom 2000

Dispatch

On one warm May night, the front lawn buzzed with mosquitoes and with the music of Dispatch—St. Andrew's favorite live show. The band returned to SAS to groove to familiar songs like "Mission," "Bang Bang," and "Bats in the Belfry"—bringing back memories from last year and creating new ones. Overcoming rain and problems with their sound system, Johnny Freedom and Dispatch entertained the whole school with a lively, spirited performance—maybe even winning enough fans to bring them back next year. All and all, Friday's band and dance kicked off a fabulous Prom weekend.
