

THE INFORMER

Five Cents

Friday, Feb. 13, 1953

Issue II

WELCOME GIRLS! SAINTS LOSE BASKET BALL - WRESTLING

VARSITY MATMEN LOSE, WRIGHT DELIVERS "STATE OF SCHOOL" ADDRESS

24 - 14

This afternoon St. Andrew's Varsity Wrestling Squad met stiff opposition in its match against Penn Charter and was defeated by a score of 24-14. In the 103 pound class, Ned Harris wrestled Gorman of Penn Charter. In the first period, Gorman scored four points, two for a take-down and two for a near fall. Early in the second period, Gorman, who had started in the position of advantage, broke Harris to the mat and pinned him with a headlock.

Wrestling at the 112 pound class for
(continued on page 3)

S.A.S. ALL SET FOR BIG WEEK-END

68 GIRLS ATTEND SCHOOL FOR 6th
FORM DANCE WEEKEND

by
G.G. MACINTIRE

At 4:30 P.M. today the S.A.S. student body will celebrate the arrival of sixty-eight girls to the campus to begin the long-anticipated dance week-end. The girls will meet their hostesses and be shown to their living quarters. Chapel for all is at 6:15, followed by supper at 6:40. The big event of the week-end, the sixth form dance will begin at 8:00 using Penta-Sea as its theme. There will be eight card dances. The fun will end at 1:00, and by 1:30, everyone
(cont. on page 3)

SCHOOL MORALE LOW, SAYS SR. PRAEFECT AT SCHOOL MEETING

At the school meeting of Feb. 8, Arthur Wright, senior praefect, delivered a State of the School message. Following is the text of his address.

"Tonight I'd like to say a few words about the morale of the school. This fall it was excellent. Since the beginning of this term school spirit has taken a vacation. It just hasn't been. You notice it everywhere. The marks came out this week, and they were exceptionally low---even for the first marking period of the winter term.

"The discipline marks and ringers are on the upswing. Each Monday night, there have been at least eight boys with twenty or more marks. It wouldn't be so bad if it were only for one week---but four weeks in a row is too much.

"Chapel attendance has been very low, too. Every service there have been twenty or more absentees. If this rate were kept up, every boy would average more than his allotted chapel excuses. Likewise at scheduled school events such as lectures---at which attendance is compulsory---attendance has taken a nosedive. For instance, less than half the student body attended the last lecture.

"One part of the school life where a lack of school spirit is particularly noticeable is at scheduled athletic ev-
(cont. on page 7)

THE INFORMER
Published by the Fourth Form of
St. Andrew's School
Middletown, Del.

Editor-in-Chief....Robert Robinson
Managing Editor....James McGiffert
Art Editor.....C. E. J. Way

Associate Editors

C. P. Hutton
Howe Lagarde
G.G. Macintire
Nigel Abbott
Wesley Melling
Michael Veasey

EDITORIALS

If by any chance you have glanced back at page 6, you will notice a cartoon and a quip beside it. This is the first time in the history of the INFORMER that any humor of this type has been printed. We had been warned beforehand of printing such material because we might turn out "corn" instead of down-right honest-to-goodness laughs. We thought that this cartoon was very funny. But being as how everyone thinks his own jokes are the funniest, we aren't too sure of whether this is really funny, or just our imagination. We enjoyed this little cartoon and hope you do also.

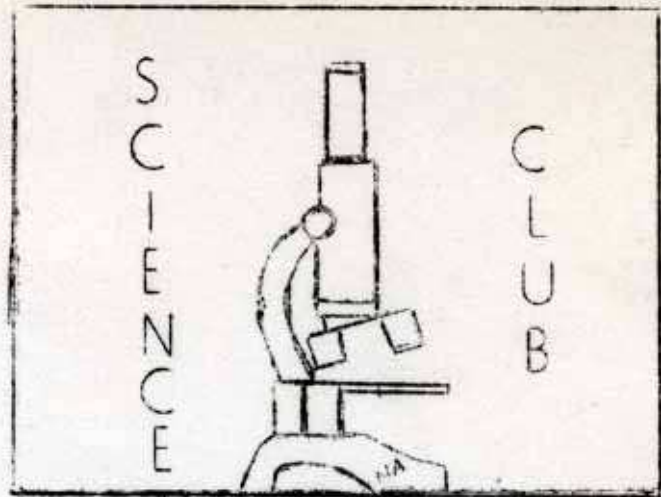

Recently, while we were reading a magazine, we came across an advertisement for a salve. The INFORMER has never had an ad before, so we thought it a jim-dandy idea to translate it into the INFORMER.

Any faults are purely intentional.

DR. GARCIA
by
Michael Veasey

One of the new figures in the S.A.S. faculty this year is Dr. Efrain Garcia. Dr. Garcia was born in San Sebastian, Puerto Rico, in 1912. After attending the elementary and secondary schools in Puerto Rico, he was sent by the government to the United States to

(cont. in next col.) (2)

by
C. P. HUTTON

The major project of the Science Club was the Noxentown Museum of Natural History, taken up by the Natural Science Division of the club. There had been an old museum, but that had fallen into ruin and half the exhibits were missing. So one can see that with all the new and ambitious members of the club, we were just "rarin'" to go.

The main exhibit is by George Baxter, who displays a wonderful collection of sea-shells which come from all corners of the earth. From whelk to the cowery, all are there. Among the more common everyday sea-shells, there are rarer ones and some of distinct value.

John Ferguson presents a planetarium, which besides showing the planets according to their position in the solar system, also clears up a few false ideas anyone might have concerning meteors.

(cont. on page 7)

DR. GARCIA
(cont. from col. 1)

study for the diplomatic corps. In 1933 Dr. Garcia became State Chairman of the Young Republican Clubs of Puerto Rico. He has attended L.S.U. where he obtained his A.B. degree in 1940, and has studied law at Puerto Rico University, Brooklyn Law School, Duke, and Loyola. Dr. Garcia studied Economics at National University and literature at the University of Washington. After post-graduate work in

(continued on page 7)

DANCE WEEK-END

(cont. from page 1)

should be in bed.

The tea dance will start at 4:30 on Saturday afternoon, ending promptly at 6 P.M. At eight o'clock, the boys, their dates, the faculty, etc. will be entertained by the Criss Cross Club production of "Life With Father," on which we have written a separate article.

Sunday dinner starts at 1:00 P.M. At 2:30, S.A.S. students and bachelors of the faculty will bid a tearful goodbye to our week-end guests. The members of the staff of the INFORMER sincerely wish everyone a wonderful week-end.

WRESTLING

(cont. from page 1)

St. Andrew's, Pete Kadzielewski got off to a good start by taking down Furman of the opponents. Just before the end of the period, Furman reversed Kad'ski to gain two points and tie the score at 2-2. Kad'ski chose bottom position in second period, and late in the same period, Furman gained a near fall. Seconds after, Furman pinned Kadzielewski with a three-quarter Nelson.

Lyons of Penn Charter decisioned Stuhlmuller of S.A.S., 4-1. Lyons got two points on a take-down in the first period, and two in the third, also for a take-down. Stuhlmuller got his lone point in the third period on a foul by his opponent.

At the 127 weight class, McLaughlin of Penn Charter pinned Campell of S.A.S. in the first period with a three-quarter Nelson, after gaining two points on the take-down.

In the next bout, Rick Teuscher defeated Glidhill, 6-4, for S.A.S. first win of the match. The boys were very evenly matched, and Teuscher won on time advantage for which he was awarded two vital points.

St. Andrew's also took the next bout when Fred Robbins decisioned Penn Charter's Clark. Robbins got five points on two reversals and a clean break, while

(continued column 2)

-BASKETBALL-
VARSITY LOSES, 38-67
J.V. LOSES, 37-26

Clark achieved two for a first period take-down.

At the 145 pound class, Conklin of Penn Charter decisioned Spangler of St. Andrew's, 3-1. It was a very closely contested match all the way through. Conklin obtained his points on a take-down and a clean break to a neutral position.

S.A.S. took the bout at the 155 lb. class, Phillippi defeating Harvey, 5-4. Phillippi gained his points for a reversal, a foul and a take-down. Harvey got four on two take-downs.

Sandy MacFarlane, wrestling at the 165 weight level, scored the only S.A.S. pin of the day in the second period with a half Nelson and body ride. At the time of the pin, MacFarlane, acting captain, was ahead of his opponent, Lear, by a score of 4-0.

In the last match of the day, the heavy-weight bout, Stassen of Penn Charter decisioned Pickett of S.A.S. in a very close match, 3-2. Pickett's points came on a reversal, while Stassen got his on a reversal and an illegal hold by Pickett.

+ ELBOW
GREASE

= SHINE

NORTH, SOUTH, EAST, WEST,

A WANSEY SWINE

IS THE BEST

5¢ PER PAIR PER COLOR

WHITE BUCKS

EXTRA

S A S. JOINS HONOR SOCIETY

SCHOOL BECOMES 130TH MEMBER OF CUM LAUDE SOCIETY

At the final school meeting of the fall term, Dr. Pell made the announcement that St. Andrew's had become a member of the Cum Laude Society. The Cum Laude Society is a body with the idea of encouraging and honoring high scholarship. It was founded at the Tome School in 1906, and it now includes 130 of the leading schools in the country.

The charter members of the S.A.S. chapter are: Mr. Hawkins, Pres., who is also a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Mr. Schmolze, Sec.; Dr. Pell, Mr. Cameron, Mr. Fleming, Mr. Hillier, Mr. Hagerty, and Mr. Voorhees.

At the end of their fifth form year, the top tenth of the class is eligible for election into the society, and at the end of their sixth form year, the top fifth is eligible. When voted into the society, each member receives a gold key as a token of his membership. This is a great honor, and S.A.S. is proud to be a member of this society.

CRISS CROSS CLUB TO PRESENT PLAY

MITCHELL SMITH, POWELL HUTTON STAR
IN PRODUCTION OF "LIFE WITH FATHER"

The S.A.S. Criss Cross Club, under the direction of Messrs. F.R. Hillier and P. Hughes Jr., will present "Life With Father" at 8:00 P.M. Feb. 7, the enjoyment of the school and its week-end guests.

As to the nature of the play, we quote one of its main actors--"Tin Ralston." "Life With Father," the account of a normal family of the nineteenth century, is probably one of the earliest productions accepted by the Times Square Stage in some time."

(continued on 2) (4)
above--

INFIRMARY BLUES

by
G. G. MACINTIRE

Last Friday I went on a weekend,
On Saturday I went on a spree;
Now it's Monday, and guess where I am?
In the St. Andrew's Infirmary!

Let me tell you that this is the life,
Except that I can't make whoopee;
Especially when I've got a fever,
Or if I'm the slightest bit croupy.

Boy oh boy, but the food is great,
Tea and toast-- what a diet!
Very seldom anything else on the plate,
And I'm expected to keep quiet!!!

The nurses, however, are good to me,
They wait on me hand and foot;
Even though I hear them say,
"Vy gan't der bad boys be goot?"

In the afternoons, a visitor invades
That room of great agony;
And not many boys enjoy the raids
Of Jack square hyo, you see!

I'm surely tired of lying here,
You'd think I was gonna die;
My work is getting way behind,
So I'm leaving now---Bye-bye!

(continued from column ...)

The cast is as follows:

Father.....	Mitchell Smith
Vinnie.....	Powell Hutton
Clarence.....	Tin Ralston
John.....	Bill Hinnant
Whitney.....	Dickie Barron
Harla.....	Randy Hillier
Cora.....	David Johns
Mary.....	Bruce Bahr
Dr. Lloyd.....	Peter Fish
Dr. Humphrey.....	Tom Quirk
Dr. Somers.....	Sleepy McCune
Margaret.....	Max Alston
Archie.....	Charles Hulick
Deia.....	Bill Shettle
Maggie.....	Bill Nuckols
Nora.....	Larry Lucas

NOW! CLASSIFY YOUR ADS IN THE INFORMER!!

by
ROBERT ROBINSON

One night, while I was driving home from a late movie in another town, I noticed a small red glow shoving its way out into the black night. Naturally, my first reaction was that it was a fire. Thinking that firemen would be there fighting it, I went to watch the excitement. However, when I got there, there were no firemen, hoses, or spectators, just me. It was a small brush fire and I made some futile attempts to put it out. I then decided to seek help from the nearest farmhouse. Taking it for granted that the woods belonged to the inhabitants of the nearest house, I hopped into my car and "dug out."

I banged on the door, waiting impatiently for an answer. The door was answered by a haggard looking woman, whom I had undoubtedly just waked up. Before she could ask who I was, I told her excitedly, "Your woods are on fire."

Much to my surprise, she didn't seem in the least disturbed. She merely peered around into the darkness of the house. "Hurburt," she called, getting no reply. "Hurburt?" Still no answer.

"Hu-u-u-rbur-r-r-t!" she shrieked, leaving a ringing in my ears.

"Wat?" answered the not-too-pleased Hurburt.

"There's a young feller out here says your woods are on fire," she drawled rhythmically. "Think we ought to believe him?"

"Druella," he answered. "Act reasonable. You know as well as I do we ain't got no woods, so they can't be on fire."

"Sounds logical," I put in.

"Close the door," shouted Hurburt.

"SLAM" went the door.

Making the excuse to myself that maybe I had tried to get help from a couple of refugees from an insane asylum, I optimistically searched for some other aid. Soon I came to another farmhouse.

Again I banged on the door.

"Quit your banging. Quit your banging. The door ain't a punchin' bag. Oh, hello, shorty."

"There's a woods on fire down the road. Thought it might be yours. If not, whose is it?"

"Son, don't rush me. Yep, can see it from here. Little one, ain't it?" He sounded almost disappointed. "Nope, ain't my woods. Tell you whose it is, though." There was a pause.

"Whose?"

"Pete's."

"Pete who?" I asked him.

"Pete Krandell," he told me.

"Got a phone?"

"Nope."

"Where's he live?"

"At Mari's Inn." Haw, 'won't he be surprised to find his woods all burnt down! Haw, Haw!

And then to Mari's Inn! I found that Pete lived on the second floor. This time I took it easy and knocked. After a few minutes Pete's wife answered the door.

"Hello," she said.

"Your husband's woods are on fire," I told her calmly.

"On fire!," she screamed.

"On fire," I repeated, influenced by the dweller of the second farmhouse.

"Pe-e-e-eter, your woods are on fire."

"Who says?" responded Pete.

"I saw it," I told him.

"Where?"

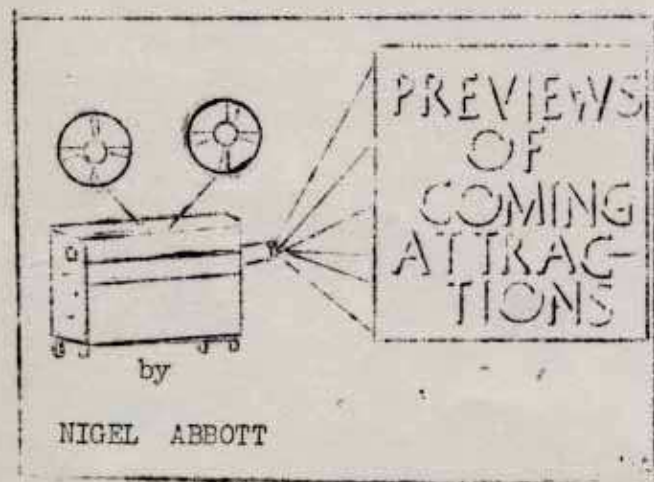

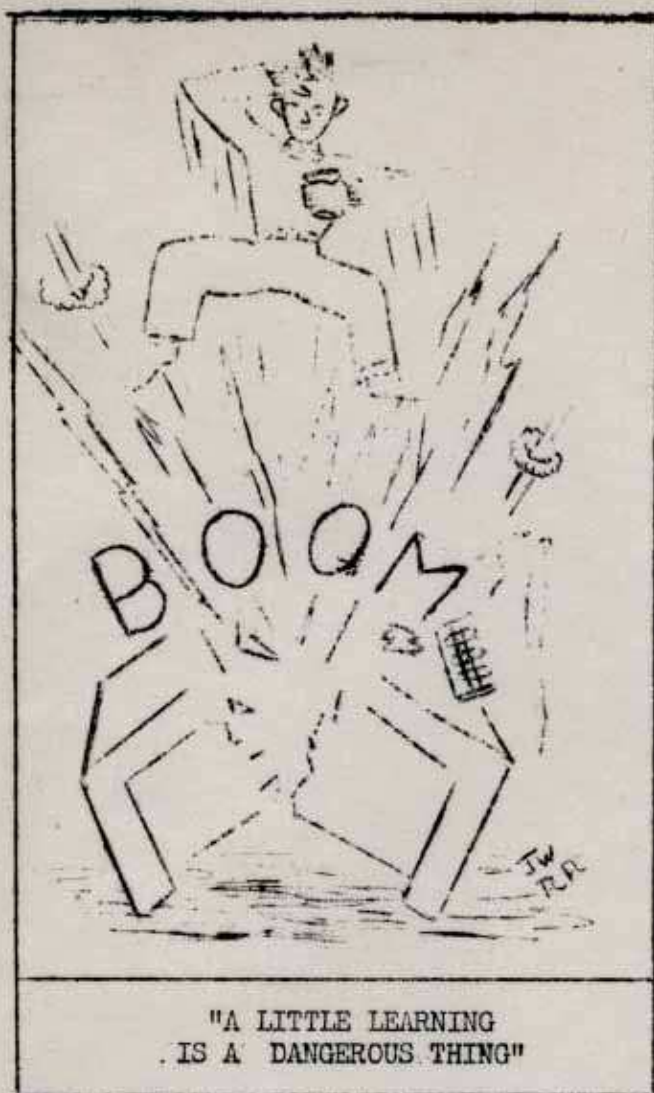

"By Silver Point."

"Very big?"

"No, but it can grow."

"Oh yeah, now I know. I was burning tires today and most likely it grew out from there. I wouldn't worry about it, young fellow. It'll stop 'when it hits

(Continued on page 7)

On Sunday the 15th of February, we have a movie entitled "On the Riviera." It stars Danny Kaye playing the parts of two people, one an actor, and the other a rich playboy. He does both superbly.

(cont. in col. 2)

KNOW GOOD
The salve that eats gently into your skin

Do your friends try to kick you or kill you? They do? Well that probably means that you aren't too popular. Do you want to become popular? Of course you do. We all do. Just run down to your nearest druggist and ask for either the small, the medium, or the large economy size bottle of KNOW GOOD--the salve that eats gently into your skin.

What good does KNOW GOOD do?

After you rub some KNOW GOOD on your face, you will notice the change immediately. Your complexion and expression change quickly because KNOW GOOD contains CHASETIMINEOPEO(The H is silent)--the new wonder ingredient that makes KNOW GOOD the best thing for your complexion.

Here is an example of KNOW GOOD's potency

Edward H. Oughtson, noted lecturer, talker, and gossipier, says that once he was picked on. But now that he uses KNOW GOOD, no one will touch him. This is just one example of why KNOW GOOD is the best for you.

PREVIEWS
(cont. from col. 1)

On the 21st we have the "Babe Ruth Story." Thrilling baseball scenes, dramatic action, laughter, tears, and a great cast starring William Bendix, Claire Trevor, Charles Bickford, and Sam

(cont. on page 7)

THE FIRE

(Cont. from page 5)

the cement road. I doubt if it will do much damage."

"Want me to call the fire department?"

"Nah, no need to wake them up." He turned over in the warm covers. It was then I decided I was getting sleepy. I said goodbye to his wife, who seemed very much perturbed, and went home.

The next day I rode out to the site of the fire. Pete was right; the fire hadn't passed the road. However, the road extended two miles until another crossed it. That's where the fire stopped. With the exception of a few haystacks, an old barn, a couple of stray cats and dogs, and other assorted matter, Pete was right again. The fire didn't do much damage.

THE END

PREVIEWS

(Cont. from page 6)

Levene all playing in the story of America's No. 1 baseball hero.

"Destination Moon" is to be shown on Feb. 28th. It is an amazing science fiction story containing many details of space exploration. It stars John Archer, Tom Powers, and Warner Anderson. See you at the flicks.

DR. GARCIA

(Cont. from page 2)

Industrial Economics at Seattle University, he went on to the University of Madrid, and University Menendez Pelayo, in Spain.

Dr. Garcia is a former Boy Scout leader. In high school he was captain of the track and basketball teams. He has travelled through Europe, the Middle East, Canada, the West Indies, and the United States. His hobbies are yachting, collecting autographs, and rare paintings.

SCIENCE CLUB
(cont. from page 2)

An exhibit of cretaceous fossils is shown by Wesley Melling and Powell Hutton. It is composed mainly of fossilized shells, although sharks' teeth and plant fossils of all kinds are shown.

Fred Schneider set up the skeleton of a cat as related to that of a man. Fred also arranged an electrical maze.

Some "Natural Habitat" exhibits are displayed by Charles Close and Peter Dunning. Mr. Amos set up a display of Protozoa (one-celled animals) while other members of the club contributed to the museum in various ways.

WRIGHT DELIVERS ADDRESS

(cont. from page 1)

ents. Some teams judge a school by the turnout at such an event. If the turnout is poor, their impression of the school is likewise poor. Here, during a basketball game on a Wednesday afternoon, lots of students stay in the main building shooting bull or just loafing. Also at daily practices, boys have taken the day off under the excuse that they're sick. To turn out good teams, we can't have a bunch of 'Friday practice' athletes. You have to be there fighting every day. If you can't make the grade yourself, you can at least give competition, and maybe give the top dog a rough go of it.

"Now here, to make this a decent place for all, everyone has to pitch in and do his share. You have to put out too. If you'll just cooperate with others you'll find life a lot more pleasant. Instead of trying to evade events go to them. Let's have 100% attendance at athletic events, lectures, chapel and even weekday athletics.

"The term isn't over; the year isn't over either. We can still end up with high spirits. So construct---don't tear down.

"Thank you."