The Dedication

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Tower,

Dedicating the 88th edition of The Griffin to you both does not do justice to the impact you both have on the school and the appreciation you deserve for it. Your commitment to the St. Andrew's community—both to the students and to your fellow faculty and staff—is incredible, and the Class of 2025 would like to thank you for this.

Since 2008, the Towers have dedicated themselves to all aspects of St. Andrew's life and culture. They have done dorm duty, coached sports, taught in the classrooms, proctored ESH, headed departments, been deans, and so much more. Through their kindness, enthusiasm, and honesty, they are both reliable and trustworthy people for students to connect with. Their children, Will '26 and Abby, are examples of the amazing qualities they instill in all of us.

Mrs. Tower is always looking to brighten someone's day. Her love for both her students and for history is palpable, and she maintains a positive attitude all the time. She tirelessly devotes herself to her students, and in her current role as Dean of Studies, she truly commits herself to bettering the lives of students and aiding in all different kinds of work. In an article from 2008 which introduced new faculty members, Mrs. Tower stated, "at the end of the day, it all comes back to community." It is certain that Mrs. Tower contributes tirelessly to the SAS community, and we cannot thank her enough for the energy and joy she shares with all of us each and every day.

Mr. Tower might be one of the most genuine figures on campus. He is a dependable and honest person who is there to support his students in any way they need. Mr. Tower's impact as a coach to the cross-country and indoor track teams is indisputable. He led the Founders indoor track team to winning back-to-back DISC championships in the past two years, and continues to excel in his role as a coach for both XC teams. In the classroom, Mr. Tower leads the math department as one of the most committed and inspiring teachers. Every student he teaches is lucky to have had the opportunity to share the classroom with him.

We are so grateful to share St. Andrew's with you, Mr. and Mrs. Tower, and we are so sad to leave you next year. However, we are positive that SAS is in safe hands with you both here!

All of our love and thanks,
The Class of 2025

A Letter From the Editors:

Dear Saints,

Welcome to the 88th edition of The Griffin! We are so glad, but also a little heartbroken that this process is over. It is truly a labor of love to make the St. Andrew's School yearbook but when we get to see the finished product come May we are filled with so much pride and satisfaction. We are so appreciative of everyone who took the time to learn how to use our beloved Jostens Avenue software (huge shoutout to DIVYA, Dash, Annie, Grey S., Lillian, Bixby, Will Tower, Bo, Willem, Sophie H., Josephine, Ines, Claire, and Margaret). We seriously poured our blood, sweat, and tears into this, so we really hope you like it.

Every Monday night brought with it the possibility of a crash out from Katie and Lindy (with the exception of when both Katie and Lindy didn't show up and no one knew what to do without them,) but thankfully, everyone survived. We would like to offer a small apology to Mr. Hill for beefing with him every so often. It was out of stress, but we have since made amends now that the yearbook has been submitted. We also acknowledge that his support has been invaluable to the creation of this document.

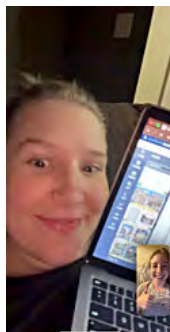

At the time of writing this note, we have only an hour standing between us and the deadline to finish the yearbook. We have come to the end of our time with this four-year long career of making unbelievably fire yearbooks. Our eyes will never be the same after countless hours of staring at a laptop screen full of photos of the people we see every single day. If you were wondering what our favorite number is... it's 10700!

Lindy convinced Katie to actually show up to the Monday night meetings sophomore year after she signed up freshman year and didn't go to a single one. Katie has never forgiven Lindy for getting her into this business; however, Katie and Lindy have been the bosses of The Griffin ever since. Surprisingly, we work really well together and try our hardest not to fight about stupid stuff regarding the yearbook because we know our friendship is worth more than this. Some may say that the yearbook is our friendship origin story. Katie is actually a nepo baby, and she got the job because both her older sisters did it too. She strived to do it better than them, and she did. Lindy stands on her own two feet in that regard.

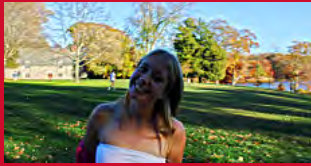

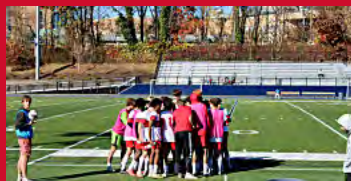

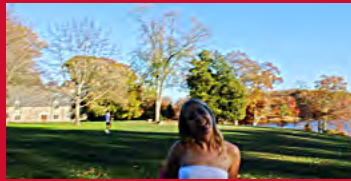

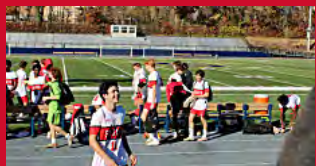

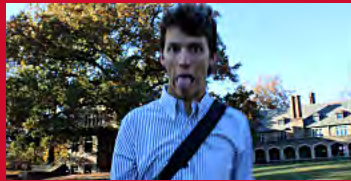

We formally apologize to anyone who we hunted down and told to do their page, especially seniors who submitted their senior pages two months late To Mateo, Ted, and Sophie, we appreciate your junior editorial skills, and we could not have done this without your support and camaraderie.

Given the long hours and tireless work we put into making the yearbook, we didn't have time for an editors' photo. With that being said, The Griffin is a historical document, and given the recent influx of generative Artificial Intelligence use, we reflect the Age of AI through our photo below.

Godspeed,
Lindy Black and Katie Boyer

A Year Through the Yearbook Lens ...

This collection of photos was taken on the yearbook camera over the course of the 2024-2025 school year.

A few pieces of advice we have for the next Griffin editors:

- Be creative! Take inspiration from work done by those who have come before you.
- Never hesitate to text us if you need help when the deadlines approach faster than you thought.
- Do not ask the seniors to email you their senior pages. It just makes things messy. Have everyone share their Canva pages with you in Canva from the beginning so you can resize as needed.
- If someone doesn't answer their emails, hunt them down.
- Bad pages are a reflection on the yearbook team as a whole. Take pride and responsibility in it. Just make it look prettier!
- To-do lists are your best friend (as well as shared google docs).
- Make a playlist for Monday nights. It brings the mood up!

On the right side of the column is a long, curved tail with a tufted end. The entire illustration is set against a solid red background.

Class of 2028,

We should all be proud of how much we have achieved in our first year at St. Andrew's. As we come to the end of our first year, there are many memories that we can look back to. Having a snowball fight, sitting at the wrong dinner tables, or waking up at 9 am every Saturday for form programming are some highlights. We know we are all nervous and excited for the next three years.

Thank you to everyone who made this year better for someone!

Dear IV Form,

As this school year comes to an end, we're reminded of how much we've grown and how ready we are to take on Junior year. From pool parties, setting up semi, to meeting for donuts, it's been quite the year. Thank you to all of you who made this an unforgettable year filled with laughter and new memories. We're grateful for how much we've bonded as a form. As we move into junior year we look forward to new memories and connections for our next two years together.

Let's take advantage of the time we have left with each other!

Dear V Form,

We are so grateful to each and everyone of you for making this year and this grade such special things to be a part of. We shared many laughs as we played "keep it up" on the front lawn, cut down trees in the middle of the woods, and talked for hours in the dining hall. We are proud of the ways that we stepped up in leadership and thankfully still have our title for donations to the Saints Fund. As we approach our senior year at SAS, we are thankful for the all of the ways that we come together and truly support each other through anything. We can't wait for more memories and to finish leaving our mark on the school. Lastly we will never forget the best addition to our grade, Marc. From America to Germany, we are always cheering for you! Let's make the most of one last year,

VI Form,

Boy, oh boy, what a year! Starting from the senior orientation, we have shown leadership across the school in so many different ways. Through divisive and challenging times, our grade has confidently remained united and enthusiastic. Throughout our four years at SAS, we have grown into strong, independent leaders, ready to leave an impact on the world outside of St. Andrew's. We are always the first ones there and last to leave. The unbreakable bonds built in our grade wouldn't be possible without our best memories such as: senior sunrise, haunted trail, the nights in the fields, snowball fights, and most recently our pancake function, just to name a few. We can't wait to see where this next step in life takes us all, there is no doubt that we will all make a positive impact on this world. We are incredibly proud of what each individual has achieved as well as what we have done as a group. This form has grown to be so close, we have spent countless hours at dining hall tables and on the front lawn playing soccer and four squares. Each individual of this form has brought something to the table for the school, whether it be on dorm, on the sports fields and courts, or in the classroom. We hope the legacy of the class of 2025 impacts the school culture positively for years to come because we have all worked hard to make it the best it can be. Never forget that we are stronger together. We hope to see each and every one of you at reunion in five years. P.S. We miss you and we love you Vincent, you are forever in our hearts

With love and pride, your VI Form Council.

Girls Collaborative:

A group supporting women and girls at SAS and around the world.

Guys Group:

A group of boys who meet to bond and discuss what it's like to be a boy in today's world.

Government Club:

These young politicians devote themselves to discussing the pressing matters of the current political climate.

Dead Poets Society:

The students who learn how to suck the marrow out of life.

Cheese Club:

Their mascot is the mouse from Chuck E. Cheese. Enough said.

Six Wicket:

These students play croquet.

League of Lumberjacks:

To describe what we do, we must first begin to describe what we do not do. We do not let ourselves be coddled by modern amenities such as the "printing press" and "indoor plumbing." We do not conform to society's expectations of using a "toothbrush" or "showering." We do not accept sporting any pattern unless it is plaid. What we DO is unite under the fundamental tenets of flapjacks and camaraderie, as we brave the cold and desolate treescapes to transport ourselves back to days of old. The essence of what we do is found in a single quote: "Chop wood, look good." Stay warm, stay adventurous.

Noxontown Yacht Club:

Embracing the natural landscape of SAS, these students sail Noxontown pond as the weather permits.

Rocketry Club:

This collection of students is NASA's secret to finding the best and brightest of the new generation.

Environmental Stewards:

These folks commit themselves to the unforgiving and never-ending feat of protecting Mother Nature.

Dance

From learning salsa, to Adaptive Dance, to Nutcracker, to Step Team, St. Andrews Dance has had its best year yet! As always Mr. Gold has been the most supportive teacher, not only by teaching us new skills and technique, but letting us flourish in our own creativity and artistry. The vibes stay amazing with all dancers hyping each other up and supporting anyone from first year beginners to life-long dancers. This year a range of styles including jazz, ballet, hip hop, contemporary, step, swing, tap, and kathak have been performed in Engelhard. We love everyone in the dance program and can't wait for another year of making great memories !!!

Boys Cross Country

From the first miles on campus to the last at states, the boys knew they were in for a world of a season. The humorous and mileage-packed preseason only strengthened the team's confidence that the summer's grind would lead to statewide success. The first race only fueled this fire, as we won the season opener at the Lake Forest Invite in an incredibly comfortable fashion.

We continued our undefeated run against Delaware teams throughout September, dominating the Middletown Invite—one of our two home meets—spearheaded by a commanding 1-2-3 finish. October soon arrived, bringing cooler weather, blistering times, and continued success. During this stretch, the JV team record, varsity record, and sophomore record were all broken at the Joe O'Neill Invite. When the team trekked north to the Manhattan Invite, more silverware awaited us, as we placed second in our race. In both historic meets, we lost to only one Delaware team—Tatnall.

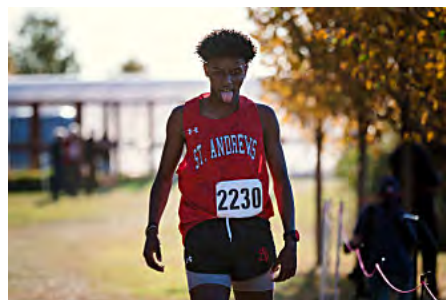

All this early success was simply a byproduct of the amazing seniors showing up every day and embracing the process. Some new faces, like Seth '28 and Phin Brown '26, also made an impact, while strong JV performers like Evan '26 and Ammanuel '27 pushed the varsity squad forward.

This magical start to the season left only one stone unturned, and we had three more championship races to try. At conferences and counties, we bested our earlier team record time, and got 2nd-highest place in school history at Counties—beating schools like Sallies and Archmere. Again, only one team stood between us and perfection, but with injuries, it simply was not meant to be as we placed second again at states.

The team of '24 finished with a varsity record of 16:32, a JV record of 18:33 (so, so fast), a freshman record of 17:11, a sophomore record of 15:52, and a new St. Andrew's all-time fastest time by yours truly, Peter Bird, at 15:51.

None of this would have been possible without intelligent, caring coaching and an entire team pushing itself daily. The entire squad, from A to Z, is grateful for each other—and I, for the gifts of fun and competition this past year. Good luck next year, boys—carry on the legacy!

Love always,
C.K. Onsomu

Girls Cross Country

Dear XC,

Thank you for such an incredible season full of memories, laughs, and so many miles. We are so proud of the growth shown throughout the fall and the way that y'all nurtured the positive culture of our team. We also want to shout out our wonderful coaches. Thank you to Mr. Tower for biking along side us during long runs, to Mrs. Voigt for always hyping us up, to Mr. Sanchez for bringing the vibes and Shelly, and of course to Ms. Celata for her dedication and love for the team. Every person was important and it wouldn't be the same with everyone of y'all. Don't forget your summer miles and more importantly your pie recipes!

Love,
Sarah, Leah, and Claire

Boys Soccer

This season has been a very memorable one from the very beginning to the very end. From all the banter throughout practices to all the competitive games, the season was always filled with something to look forward to and be joyful about. It was not only a period that brought joy to us among all the other aspects of St. Andrew's, but also a feeling of happiness for the school to latch onto throughout a long fall. Although we came up short in the state final, the seniors could not thank the underformers enough for the amount of effort that they put in to make the state run possible in the first place. This team was due for a breakout season after all the adversity that we have gone through together in the past few years, and we hold this season with pride after dealing with all the adversity within it. More importantly, we created a family and a culture on the team together that will live on beyond the footy pitch. On behalf of all the seniors, to all the underformers, we hope that our season is a memory that you will never forget and will inspire all of you to be the best players and young men you can be. We would like to thank all of you and gaffas Horgan, Knudsen, and Altig for making everything possible. Finally, never take a moment on the footy pitch for granted, truly embrace the feeling when you wear red and white, and continue to make us proud.

Love You Guys,
Your Captains,

Dear fhockers of 2024,

First of all to Coach Cusick, we are so excited to watch your Cotton-Eye Joe performance during an upcoming school meeting. Thank you for being such a huge part of our team's growth over the past 3 years. Your coaching skills and love for this team brought us from 2-13 to 8-7 (which is in fact the most wins this program has had in 21 years!!) To the team, there is no one else we would rather have Toppled the Tower with. The connections we built both on and off the field were clearly visible throughout the entire season. Even after the impact of a certain spirit stick and our rough patch at the beginning of the season, we still persevered. We are so proud of every single person on this team and what you have contributed this year. Please remember to think of us every time you hear Big Booty 18!! We are so excited to see what next year holds for all the underclassmen, and we know you are destined for the tournament.

Football

Dear Football 2024-2025,

First of all thank you to Coach Barron for stepping up this season as an amazing first year coach and one that all of the seniors loved having for our final season. You and your coaching staff is the first one in our time at SAS that has stayed intact throughout the entire season and it has meant a lot to us that you all stuck through a season that did not go as planned. Thank you. Underclassmen, we are all excited to see what you do with the season next year. We know that with the great athletes and coaching on the team you can make it a season to remember.

Your Captains,
Spencer, Grey, and Tyrus

On the behalf of the whole basketball team I wanted to say thank you for everything you've ever done for the team and me. I appreciate all the time you put into basketball, trying to make this the best season for me and all the seniors. We all thank you. From the 6am practices to the games on your precious weekends, thank you for giving your time. Thank you Terrel, Moe, and Tre for giving your time to help us become better men and better basketball players. You guys don't understand how much I care for you guys and how much you guys helped me become a collegiate athlete.

Thank you, Love you boys

Girls Basketball

Dear Girls Varsity Basketball,

Thanks so much for such a fun and memorable season. We are so proud of our team with our winning record of 10-9, all of the made layups during the 2-minute drill, the amount of El Diablo burritos demolished, and of course the upset win over Tatnall with our 11 3-pointers. Our season was special because of the support and love that filled our team, and it would not have been possible without all 11 players. We are so grateful for Paul's ball handling, Anaya's hype ups, Honsel's competitive fire, and of course Roger's funny jokes. Andrew and Juelz were some of the best managers ever, and thankfully Faith was always there to call out our huddles. This season was amazing and we can't wait to be back for more ballin next winter.

Love,
Your Captains

Dear SAS swimming 25-26,

We have been so proud of your work you've done this season. It was incredible seeing you guys go from wall to wall everyday with a certain type of determination and grit. We became a family during our times at the end of each lane, screaming and cheering for whoever was in the water. Through this season, we learned to persevere. Despite the deadly plague that many members fell to, we exercised compassion, and courage through the end of the season. To the juniors, we know the future of this team lies in great hands and can't wait to see your future leadership. To the sophomores, never stop being who you are, your energy and humor brings so much joy and laughter to us. Last but not least, the freshman: your dedication serves as a reminder of the power from pushing ourselves past the limit.

Keep in touch,
Amanda and Nanda

Boys Squash

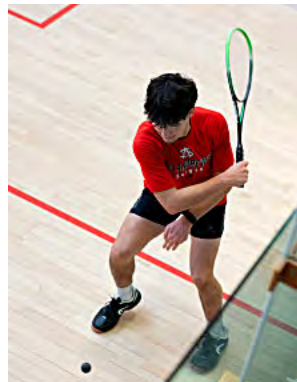

Rails were tight and boasts were cheeky for the boys squash team during the 2024-25 season. From the ab workouts to the occasional duck duck goose or game of mafia, the entire program came together this year. While we didn't always do the drills the right way, fully count to 20 on our court sprints, or hold our rackets tight enough during a speech from Doug, the progress this team made is immeasurable. It's undoubtedly tough to end the season missing nationals due to sickness, but the three of us are incredibly proud of all we accomplished and the fun we had—from beating Tower Hill twice to sharing a friendly meal with Loyola Blakefield, and from Michael's calf-flexing ability, Ian's chatter bait, Manny's "stretching," Kent Como's daily award, and the Den's ever-changing rules, we made countless great memories this season. While we did not accomplish our goal of winning nationals, we have no doubt this team will put up a new banner soon.

Much love from your Captains,

Dear squashers,

This season was so memorable. We had so much fun hanging out every day on the courts, the long van ride, Catherine's amazing navigation skills, Doug's nicknames, all of the Ws on the road, the early morning Wawa stops, Lancaster Cupcake, and our 2x State Championship wins. We loved getting to know all of you on and off the court and getting better at squash! We cannot wait to watch you guys through the Instagram next year (@sas.girls.v.squash)!!! Have so much fun with Doug :)

Dear Indoor Track,

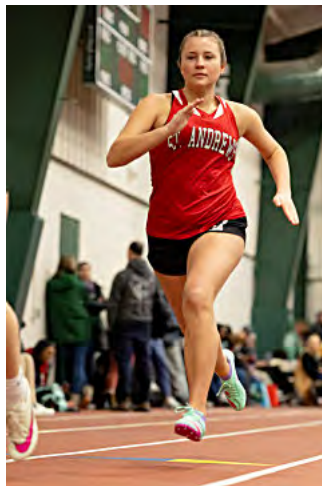

It has been an amazing 2024-2025 track season with so many records broken and new ones created. With the largest team in school history to date, we succeeded in building a team culture full of support, individual effort, and pride in our teammates. The boys swept the DISC Championship, scoring in just about every event and breaking records while doing it. Girls came in a swift second, securing many great finishes including a 1,2,3 in the 3200. Heading to States, we have 22 athletes traveling to UPenn for the State meet. As captains, we are proud of every single one of you for putting your all on the track, field, and even in the snow & rain. Thanks for an amazing season!

Love,

Wrestling

Dear team,

On behalf of all of the seniors graduating this year we want to thank you, through the tough workouts, long tournaments, and pee tests. You've all helped to make our final season a memorable one. We hope that each of you has learned a little bit, be that about yourselves and your physical limits or simply just how to wrestle. Having the opportunity to watch first hand each of the new wrestlers grow as athletes and people has been an honor. To the returning wrestlers we're confident knowing that you will inherit this team that each of us has put so many bloody noses, bruises, and hours into. We'll more than miss Chun's email revolution, Olivia's midmatch smiles, John's ripped pants, Alex's optimism, Anjola's earrings, Aaron's fear of girls, Alice's elbow, Musa's Tiger Balm, Julian's backflips, Sol Bean's tournament pizza stops, and Brian's bruised ribs.

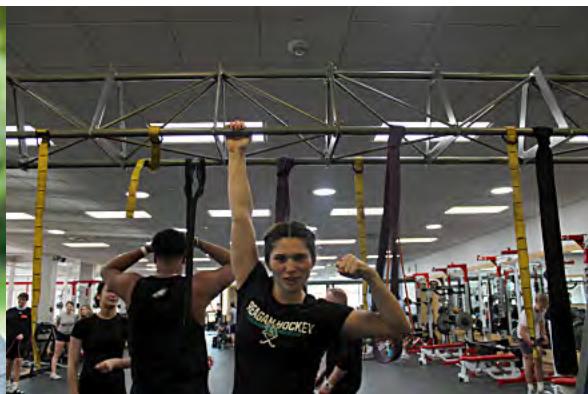

Rock out and Jam out,

Winter Workout

Winter Workout this year was dubbed the “most athletic group of kids” Mr. Al Wood has ever seen. So, each one of us went into this season with that mentality, lifting heavier every day, pushing our physical limits with each workout. Al made individualized plans for each sport and athlete, he gave us the encouragement and guidance we all needed to make it through. While some workouts felt like they might never end, this group sure knew how to have fun. We would blast RKS on the JBL and occasionally breakout dancing to the high school musical classics. People perfected their pull ups, dreaded the prowler and sighed sighs of relief at the words “20 minute steady state finisher.” This season each one of us also had the opportunity to work with our coaches and teammates for the upcoming spring sports so we are all excited to see where these 3.5 months of preparation take us. It’s safe to say we all found a lifting buddy and inspired and pushed each other to get stronger and better everyday.

Baum Stars

From dorm basketball to pancake functions, the word I would use to describe this dorm is intense. Every moment someone was doing something a bit stupid, but also a lot fun. Dorm races, yelling during football, and making endless amounts of pancakes are only some of the brotherly moments we've had this year. The camaraderie of this dorm is best exemplified by the endless hours of Brawl Stars, which only made the bonds tighter. It was a truly phenomenal year and I wish you all the best of luck next year. We, your seniors, are all gonna miss you.

Brawl on!

This summer, as Mr. Rehrig meticulously decided the sophomores' dorm placement; he made a fatal mistake. Unbeknownst to him, he had just created the most electric combination of personalities the halls of Founders have ever seen. Quickly, the dorm theme "The Vortress" was decided, and we were in motion. The year has been a great success so far, and although we were robbed of two housemasters titles, the boys know that it is simply due to unfair bias of the judges and not because of any untidiness on our part. Here is the lineup of the dream-team: the triple at the end of the hall never fails to give dorm faculty a laugh and a headache; Grant and Steele work like dogs to be the strongest they can; Tim and Blake may face each other in the NBA one day; Daniel and Ronit pretend to study after lights out, however we all know that non-wifi games are their true passion; Alex and Finn are always the source of enthusiastic conversation; Damar and Jonah have won their seniors' hearts with their LeBron shrine (LeVorhees might come in Q4); Bo and Jack are far more put together than I am, while remaining fun, caring, and fast runners; finally, Henry and Willem ... Henry likes stretching his hip flexors and running, and Willem likes sports games and not cleaning his side of the room. To the seniors, Mateo and Camillo have brought the steady care and love for the Vortress that it needs to keep running, while Reeve Liam and Rah bring fun ideas and big smiles. Yeabi and I have found a home in the middle of this glorious hall.

The Vortress has made boys into men.

With love,
Finn (HTRL)

Dear Mein,

You all have been such a joy to live with. We've had so much fun laughing at rom coms, screaming at horror movies, sharing meals, and sharing thankful Thursdays with you all.

When we have asked you to step up, or held you to a higher standard each of you have exceeded it. It has been such an incredible experience getting to see you all grow this year and we know you will be incredible leaders wherever you end up in the future. You all bring a different positive presence to the dorm, and each contributes to making it feel like home. Thank you so much for everything this year! We love you!

In Twenty Years ...

Charlie Adams - Living his life as a spin instructor in LA. Still cheers for whichever sports teams happen to be really good at the moment.

Jayda Badoo - Professional squash player working towards her 5th gold medal at the 2048 Olympics. She makes Gmail fonts as a side hustle.

Kendra Badoo - Working as a voice actor for animated films in the south of France.

Elli Baker - lives in a crew hype house equivalent which consists of Emma de Ramel, Will Hagberg, Joe Baker and occasionally Maggie Baker. They make Tiktoks everyday - still hoping to go viral. Grace has her own room in the house for when she visits.

Bido - He became an internet sensation for posting soccer recruitment Tiktoks using only brain rot vocabulary. He passionately coaches his 5 year old kid's youth soccer team.

Peter Bird - holds the world record for the fastest marathon time by the age of 21. He still wakes up at 5am to train every day and still misses his Hoka Mach 5s :(

Lindy Black - works hand in hand with Grace King to educate the youth on the importance of Celsius. Bought the Jostens Yearbook company so she could fix all of their problems.

Brandon Blake - performs in Carnegie Hall every weekend. The modern day Lester Young.

Katie Boyer - Flies Air Force One for fun. Her real job is making yearbooks for the white house. Carpools her kids with Emma Hunter because moms gotta stick together.

Roland Bridges - Never stopped growing, he's now seven feet tall but has really short blonde kids.

Pope Brown - is a tennis coach in the Hamptons, and her children are extremely well-behaved.

Mateo Carballo - Professional DJ in Ibiza. Plays for their thirds basketball team.

A'Zir Carey - High fashion model for Dolce & Gabbana. Expanded Chocolate Empire to all of the Western hemisphere.

Hampton Carlile - Just hanging probably. He won an award for being the chilliest guy on the planet. He hosts a Mahjong tournament once a year just to make his friends happy.

Andrew Chen - finally made it to the league. Still bounces up and down and his seat when someone disagrees with him and says "I guess I just don't know"

Isaac Cheung - performing magic tricks in Vegas every night and making bank.

Juelz Clark - Through exposure with his Panther Poetry account he was named the American Poet Laureate.

Turner Clark - Still gives her friends free therapy but she has become a professional while working as a therapist in Utah.

Bridget Daly - She won the Guinness world record for strongest calves. She still cringes and yells "Miss" every time a joke doesn't land and she strongly encourages her children to go on runs with her everyday!

Serenity Davis - has 10 million Tiktok followers and is the CEO billionaire of her own fashion company

Emma de Ramel - An international spy whose cover is a middle aged cat mom that makes her own sea moss.

Grace Anne Doyle - working as a kindergarten teacher in California, she's the perfect mix of sweet and bossy for the job (it's the coxswain in her.)

Grey Dugdale - Living with mom and breeding rare fish. He created his own vodka pasta sauce that is available in grocery stores near you.

Grey Durham - On the Board of Trustees at SAS and he runs the classical languages department at Duke. His vocabulary solely consists of words that start with T.

Frankie Elliott-Ozug - lives in Spain with her rich husband, Prem Patel, but still goes home every weekend. Named her first born daughter Richard. She and Ben fought over the name.

Spencer Fairbanks - Started his own sports talk show and occasionally invites Leo Teti on as a guest speaker. He has conducted lots of research on how walking on tiptoes is better for health.

Quinn Ferguson - After checking off all 50 states, she is traveling to all the countries helping those in need.

Sarah Fischer - Mom of 8 very southern children and has trouble disciplining them because she cannot stop laughing. She advises Veague in his feminist matters.

Sophie Forbes - Won a Pulitzer Prize for their comic series, and they skateboard to the office through NYC everyday.

Catherine Foster - Instagram influencer who exclusively posts aesthetic food and daily workouts. She decided to finally settle down in Hawaii and her children are becoming pro surfers.

Greyson Friedli - Owns a D&D themed coffee shop in Easton, Maryland. He occasionally finds local plays to act in and spends most of his time volunteering with the local youth.

Sofia Golab - she has become an undercover operative for the CIA who speaks 10+ languages. She sits in her house with her rich husband drinking coffee and reading books on her days off.

Spencer Gross - Still taking pictures of the world around him, defeating his mortal enemy @shotbysatchel. He has no fingerprints left & he lives in a compound with his friends from camp.

Will Hagberg - Investment banker living in a NYC penthouse with Joe Baker; they erg together every morning and cook steaks every night.

Isabella Hernandez - Released a cover of Linger that was so good the Cranberries became irrelevant. She now is a voice coach raising her YAYAYA and playing the guitar.

Julissa Hernandez - Chonch's Flicks got her so much exposure that she was invited to be on the Real HouseWives of Miami.

Max Hilton - works on the facilities team at SAS and helps troubled teens find their way in life. He has grown his beard down to his chest and has no hair on the top of his head. Joins Finn's YouTube sometimes.

Josh Ho - Still says "uhhh I have a question" every time he asks a question. He has made acquaintances with all 8 billion people in the world due to his friendly nature.

Rashawn Holder-Brown - Moves to Tokyo, starts a wildly successful sushi chain, and sponsors Lebron James in his 32nd NBA season.

Saskia Hood - Lives in Italy painting watercolors on the beach. Ergs with her dad everyday. She started up her own small business, which provides self-care services (Skincare, tickles, massages etc.)

Leah Horgan - Moved in with the Carrolls and is now their full time nanny to cover up the fact that she is a multi-billionaire due to her work with the Italian mafia. She won the record for world's slowest eater.

Emma Hunter - still plays cards with her brothers every Tuesday. Won the World Series of Poker. She works for a wealthy family as their sophisticated palate private chef. She brings immaculate snacks to her kids tennis matches.

Brianne Isaac - Finally drove from Delaware to China to cheer Ema on in the World Cup as WAG.

Reeve Johnson - Still talking about his lacrosse glory days to all the players whom he coaches back at St. Andrew's. You can still hear his whispers throughout the halls.

Yeabi Kehm - Became an Ethiopian prince and out of generosity, sends money to Rahshawn every month.

Luke Ketzner - came back to SAS to be a pseudo-Phil Davis and disciplinary motivational speaker. His mom is still more popular than him!

Ethan Kim - sells cars for a living. Shows a lot of emotion while he drives his Alfa Romeo.

Grace King - She became the new Wolf of Wall Street and outworks every man in the finance industry. She wears fancy pant-suits and goes to Drybar everyday to get her hair blown out.

Jules Klecan - Coaches wrestling for US Women's National team and has the best voice on her entire team.

Madeleine Lasell - Her collection of Blundstones is forever growing and she crochets every day.

Camilo Leon Rosenfield - coaches his kids soccer team and lives in Boston so he can watch Celtics games.

Erik Liu - He is a Dubai millionaire and he owns a Golden Doodle.

Darnell Lloyd - Most likely to be the reason behind the resurgence in Court TV across the globe. The TV Show, Nelly: Attorney at Law will earn him a The Pulitzer Prize for Public Service in Entertainment.

Finn Lorentzen - started a community class on how to pose in pictures, he still mews to this day. He swims the coast of Palm Beach every morning.

Ren Luck - Has become a fashion model while also singing on Broadway.

Ben McDonnell - Has a daughter named Richie that he raises in the middle of nowhere. He has a hot tub.

Ashley McIntosh - crowned the official Miss Jamaica and came back to St. Andrew's to give a lecture that took 3 hours but was extremely interesting and well prepared.

Nelle McVey - Goes on hot mom walks with her Tequila Time hat. Her funky phone case collection has grown 10x in size.

Katherine Meers - almost got arrested for battery after pulling a girl's hair during her intramural soccer game even though she was 30 years old.

Amanda Meng - Runs the streets of Baltimore at 2am while on the phone discussing her multi-million dollar biotech company.

Magnolia Mullen - plays Mahjong everyday with Grace King & Katie Boyer gearing up for Hampton's annual party. She has travelled to every country in Europe and finally decided to settle down in Portugal. Her closet is the size of Rhode Island but she generously allows people to borrow.

Eleni Murphy - Cured cancer and still lives in Philly with 1000 cats that she fosters. She forces her cats to watch movies that star hot male leads.

Jack Myers - introduced brainrot to the business world and is dealing with multiple "business" affairs. He finally embraces the nickname "gingy" only to become prematurely bald.

Gloria Oladejo - is featured on the Forbes '30 Under 30' for the impact of the newspaper she founded and is an opinion columnist for New York Times on the side. Her exposé entitled "The Downfall of Hollywood" became famous.

Chris Onsomu - continuing to perfect his running form. He and Mr. O'Connell still train together everyday. He is the nicest teacher at St. Anne's.

Nanda Pailla - Tesla engineer who is friends with everyone at his local pub and spends time with Chris on weekends while their kids have play dates.

John Plummer - Got new croc skates, so he can play hockey and wear crocs at the same time. He still carries around his gallon water bottle. He only dresses in shorts and corny t-shirts with inappropriate sayings.

Elijah Proctor-Moore - plays Marvel rivals and streams for a living while filming basketball content in his free time at the local YMCA

Ray Quinones - Professional twitch streamer. Consistently quotes Sketch and Jynxzi. He is a devoted husband and father.

Lillian Rand - Won a Nobel Prize for her scientific discoveries and accepted the award with a straight face.

Porter Read - didn't quite make it to Wall Street because he got fired for saying mums in a business meeting. Moved back to England because he missed it too much. His house has a room for Hampton.

Penelope Reed - Created her own designer brand. Most cutthroat female CEO in the world. "Wait whaaat?" is still her favorite sentence.

Cai Romaine - Started his own gardening brand named Romaine Lettuce.

Tyrus Roney - Makes his own fragrance named Sweeter than Syrup. He spews unsolicited wisdom to his children everyday.

Liam Roth - Watches instagram reels while working for NASA as a physicist. He can't bring himself to leave Rehoboth Beach so he commutes everyday while listening to On Sight. Goes to the gym to hit deadlift.

Luke Rowles - Finally perfected his front handspring. Flinches whenever he hears the word 'Tuesday.' His children are contenders for The World's Curliest Hair.

Ember Theeke - Owns an indie record and antique shop in a small beach town. She adopted a pet elephant who lives in her backyard and she taught it how to play field hockey.

Will Toomey - Lives in colorado and is hiding out from the FBI after being on their top ten most wanted just based off of his Instagram Reels likes.

Alex Triantafillou - discovered he was actually a Greek Prince and moved to Greece to rule his people. Claims his sleeper build is a result of his heritage (Roman Gods)

Gray Veague - finally built his Casa de Las Mujeres and is a professional feminist. Refers to himself in the 3rd person as "Gaff" while coaching his daughters golf team.

Greta Vebeliunas - She will be in Lithuania teaching children Lithuanian dance, her live streams reach one million viewers every time because has become the modern day Dougherty Dozen.

Claire Walker - Finally moved to Pittsburgh after living in every city known to man. She tells people that that she's just from everywhere. Her hobby is chasing aesthetic photos of the world around.

Daisy Wang - discovered a way to resurrect Einstein so she can flex her scientific discoveries on him; has tickets to every Wimbledon Champion ever.

Yiru Wang - Coaches people on how to shoot 3's based on the calculations of the angles. Has invested most of his money in sports goggles companies.

Finn Waterston - He is a roaming Nomad with a YouTube Channel to vlog his adventures, however he spends a lot of his time in Norway.

Ted Williamson - He became a ski safety instructor and lives on the side of the mountain. He is a regular at the local hot chocolate shop. He calls Mr. Kemer to chop it up about math from time to time.

Anastasia Wrightson - Sails all the time and lives in Nantucket. She met her husband while she was traveling Europe with her brother Squid.

SAS HIGHLIGHTS

Sports

Rowing, Basketball, and Football have been crucial to my development.

Mentoring

Hillier! I love my boys and I know every one of them will go on to be great men.

Arts

SAS is a place that enabled me to rekindle my love for singing and visual arts. I'll be sure to continue that throughout college.

Community

For all members of this beloved community that I have helped or have helped me I am eternally grateful.

Originally from Philadelphia Pennsylvania, Tyrus Roney (Class of 2025) has experienced an excellent journey at St. Andrew's. He has made loyal and caring friends in which he cannot thank the school enough for. This combined with his academic and athletic achievements will leave Tyrus with a special spot in his heart for this institution forever.

A letter from the editor:

Dear SAS,

Thank you for embracing me into this community. I am blessed and fortunate to be expressing gratitude for this generational gift. I've learned more than I thought was possible and have explored my potential in ways that were hidden before this school. Thank you for allowing me to thrive.

I'd like to thank everyone: every teacher who has taught me, every teacher who I've shared a lunch table with, every teacher who has coached me, and every teacher who has done none of those, because no matter what, they have impacted me on some level and helped shape who I am. I want to thank every senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman I've ever interacted with, because I'm confident they've influenced me. Special shoutout to those I've shared sports with and those I've lived with on dorm. I wouldn't be the person I want to be—who I am today—without all of you, and for that, I am indebted.

Congratulations on this incredible milestone! Graduating high school is no small feat, and today, all your hard work, dedication, and perseverance have proven that you can do all things through Christ who strengthens you. As you step into the next chapter of your life, remember to embrace every opportunity, follow your passions, remember you are destined for greatness. You've already proven that you can overcome challenges and succeed, so the sky's the limit for what you can accomplish. Cherish the memories you've made, the friendships you've built, and the lessons you've learned along the way. This is just the beginning of an amazing journey, and your community and I couldn't be prouder of you. Wishing you all the success, happiness, and love as you reach for your dreams "Dr. Mc"!

Spring Supplement 2025

Baseball

Dear Baseball Team,

This baseball season has been the most fun I have ever had playing baseball. After my freshman year I was determined to change the narrative around this program and not be the laughing stock of the school. At first I thought this was by winning more games and making a deep state tournament run. I couldn't have been more wrong. This team has always had the talent and grit to compete with and beat good teams but lacked leadership. The mentality was: once we were down, we were never coming back. This year we proved that we can play from behind and shock the state. Beating Sanford was the proudest I have ever been of this team, and it was when I realized that the narrative of this program is changing for good. I know that next year a lot of the team will be missing but we will be cheering for you guys in spirit. Juniors, this is your team now, set your own goals and expectations, and get ready to achieve them. I believe in all of you and can't wait to visit next Arts Weekend. To the coaches, I want to thank y'all for allowing this year's seniors to lead this team and continue to believe in us. We have been through so many ups and downs over the last four years but never stopped believing. So again thank you. I can't say this enough, but this team will always have a special place in my heart.

With Love,

Your Captains

Dear rowers of 2025,

Wow, that season really flew by! From jumping in the pond, bobs and masks for race days, medals galore, focused competitiveness, diligent meters on the pond, to fun team building activities . . . this season has been a BLAST! Our team faced many changes and setbacks throughout the season, and yet we pushed through and became stronger, figuratively and literally, each time. To the freshmen, with all the positivity and excitement you bring each day, you all have turned our world upside down (just like your boat at the dock). To the 3V, thank you for being so adaptable and ready to change each practice with such focus. 2V, you guys have been so thrilled to work and sweat. We are so happy to have gotten the privilege to row beside you. To the 1V, thanks for making our senior years so special– we’ve loved nothing more than this season with you #bobforever. We would also like to thank our coaches for their constant support throughout the season– it takes a lot of work to make a crew program run, and you all do it beautifully. Last but not least, we will forever relish in the victory of THE DUCKY PLUNGER!

Love you all,
Catherine, Sarah, and Elli

Dear Gentlemen,

We firmly believe that many of the hardest working people on campus head down to the boathouse from 4 - 6:30 pm. For the past three years we have developed a culture of extra work throughout every part of the year. The culture we have developed has made the eight-hour days at regattas worth only the 4 minutes and 20 seconds of rowing. As many of us head off to rowing in new places, we understand how special the days and regattas on the pond are. Everyone says rowing at St. Andrew's can't be replicated, and that is because of you guys. Thanks for hanging with us through coaching changes, Everhart's wake, and brutal erg workouts. One last thanks to Coaches Alex Horgan and Greg Doyle for the seen and unseen hours of care they showed us in this unpredictable year.

Stay in touch,
your crew seniors

Dear glax gods,

We are so so so proud of you all!! This has been the best senior season we ever could have asked for. We made so many great memories and will cherish everything we have learned from you girls. We will never forget Meemaw's steal the bacon performance, all of Maggie's time spent braiding, the comp team wars, and bonding in the vans on the way to games. This season has been unforgettable, with incredible growth and success all around. Most importantly, though, we will miss the team and playing the sport we love.

In love and lax,
Lindy and Grace

Boys Lacrosse

Dear Fellas,

Congrats on an amazing season! After a commanding 12-3 regular season, we entered the state tournament as the 6th seed (kinda got robbed), and ended the season with the most wins in a single season in school history. Our defense -- lead by resident stud Granimal Fenwick, of course -- boasted the lowest number of goals-against in the state. What makes this team special, however, is how close we've all become representing the B.A.D.G.E. From Schponk getting lit up at paintball, to Steele bathing in The Juice, to watching Merri and JT snipe corners in calvary games, the season has been one to remember. Thank you seniors and Coach D . . . we will miss you.

VIVA LA CAVALRY!

Much love,

Your Captains

Row 1: Jack Grant '27, Grey Dugdale '25, Kent Como '28, Bradley Cook '26, Calder Lopez '26

First of all, a huge thank you to both Coach Hoopes and Coach Mufuka. From putting up with our antics, to being motivators after rocky sets, your coaching and guidance has led us to great success. Having lost three seniors last season, I did not know what to expect to come out of this one. Since day one of preseason, however, this team has shown nothing but positivity, tenacity and determination. These values have translated into our match play; with a record of 10-2, and decisive wins against CR and Archmere, we have had an extremely successful regular season. We continued our winning mentality through to states. Everyone qualifying into the semi finals, along with a state championship, allowed us to lift the runner's-up trophy. Sharing this awesome achievement with the team and coaches was very special. Apart from the (not so rare) suicides for cursing, and arguments regarding our Indigenous Runs pace, the fun that I've had with this group will stay with me for years to come.

Thank you to everyone for buying in and making this team incredibly special.

Porter

Girls Tennis

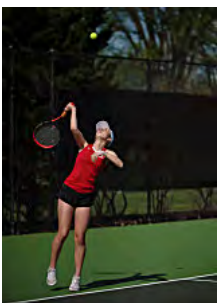

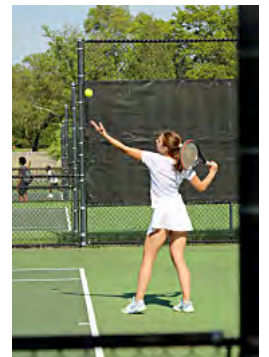

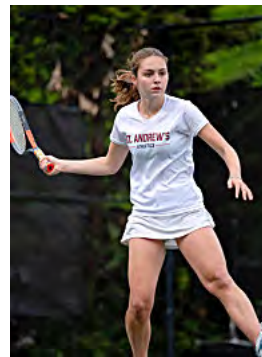

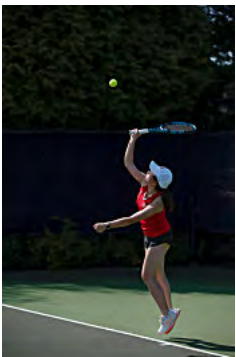

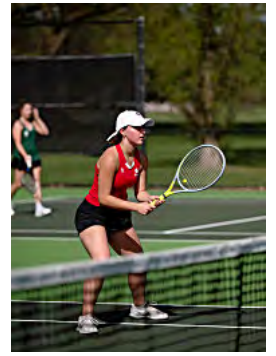

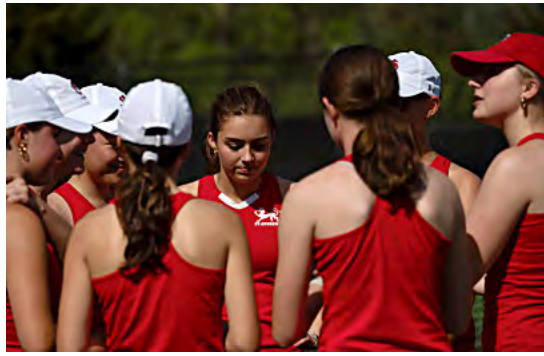

Dear Tennis Superstars,

To all the seniors, despite us having different coaches every year, you all have continued to be such a positive presence and have made this our favorite team to play on. Tennis has been a happy part of all our St. Andrew's springs and we're so glad that this has brought us all together. To Kendall, Sades, Enid, and Lila, thanks for hanging in there with us – even with a group of almost all seniors, each of you brings something to the team and aren't afraid to speak up. Because of this our team culture has benefited so much and we know that the team is in good hands for next year. We hope that tennis continues to be a fun, competitive de-stresser at the end of the day. Keep killing the seal, listening to the Eye of the Tiger, huddling shoulder to shoulder, going to Wawa before matches, and of course, always end with a clap. Remember they said no dawgs on the court! We will miss you guys so much but are equally excited to see all you do for the tennis team next year!

Love,

Nelle and Emma

Ladies,

We cannot express how much you have made this spring an unforgettable experience. Our growth throughout this season has been epic, and our team chemistry has only gotten stronger. Practice is our favorite part of the day, and we leave every day with so much gratitude and energy. Thinking back to two favorite games, Odessa and Ursuline. Both games every person put in 200% to make them dominations and such fulfilling matches. When we work together and celebrate each other, magic happens on the field. We will never forget moments like the Gotham vs. Spirit match, or the van rides to each away game. For every ritual handshake, cinnamon roll, and superstition, we will miss this.
